

New Mexico State University

2021 Annual Security Report

Covering:

NMSU Las Cruces Campus and DACC Espina Campus with Statistics for 2018-2020

Release Date: October 1, 2021

INTRODUCTION

This report contains information regarding safety and security programs, policies, and procedures in place at New Mexico State University's Las Cruces campus and the Doña Ana Community College's Espina campus. It complies with the requirements established by 20 USC 1092, also known as the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act), as well as the requirements imposed by the amendments to the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Crime statistics from 2018 through 2020 required by this Act are included.

The University Police Department handles the collection of data for this report, though it relies on many other departments, agencies, and individuals for the data and information contained herein. Those individuals and departments identified as Campus Security Authorities are expected to immediately report crimes brought to their attention to the University Police Department to ensure they are included herein. Prior to the compilation of this document, the university Police Department conducts a follow-up with the Campus Security Authorities to help ensure no crimes are inadvertently missed.

For ease in locating information, this report has been separated into sections. If you have any difficulty locating information in this report, would like a printed copy of this report, or if you need this report in a different format, please contact the university Police Department at (575) 646-3311 for assistance.

SECTION 1 - OVERVIEW

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

The NMSU Las Cruces campus is the home of almost 20,000 students, faculty, staff, and residents during the school year. The Doña Ana Community College (DACC) Espina Campus is co-located on the Las Cruces campus and contains thousands of additional students, faculty, and staff, including those enrolled in the Arrowhead Early College High School and Medical Academy (which is operated by Las Cruces Public Schools).

Actually located outside the city limits of Las Cruces, the university is the largest land-grant university in the nation in terms of geographic size, thanks in part to the Chihuahuan Desert Rangeland Research Facility (better known as the College Ranch) and a host of other facilities and campuses throughout the state. These include the Leyendecker Research Facility, the Fabian Garcia Horticulture Center, and the Horse Farm, as well as DACC's East Mesa Campus, Chaparral Campus, Gadsden Campus, Sunland Park Campus, and Workforce Development Center. All totaled, there are over 105 square miles of "NMSU" in Doña Ana County alone.

PUBLIC SAFETY AGENCIES AT NMSU

In 1957, the university determined there was a need for its own police department. Since its inception over 60 years ago, the NMSU Police Department (<https://www.nmsupolice.com/>) has grown to become a highly trained and capable department that provides patrol, criminal investigation, and emergency dispatching services for the university. While most efforts are focused at the Las Cruces campus, the department also assists the other facilities around the state in preparedness activities, crime prevention programs, and special criminal investigations. The department has enforcement authority on all property controlled by the Board of Regents throughout the state (and on streets immediately adjacent to campuses where classes are taught), as well as concurrent jurisdiction in some neighboring areas under mutual aid agreements.

All police officers are highly trained, certified, and have full arrest powers. All officers must complete a basic police officer academy and be certified by the New Mexico Law Enforcement Academy Board. In addition, a number have specialized training and work with other agencies in the region. Some are nationally certified handlers of explosives detection dogs, while others participate on regional response teams that investigate special crimes, as well as task forces with a variety of state and federal agencies. Examples include the Multi-Agency Officer Involved Shooting Task Force and the FBI Joint Terrorism Task Force. All of this means the officers working on campus bring back a wealth of information and experience that are used to help ensure the university is on the cutting edge of safety and preparedness.

All dispatchers working in the university's Emergency Dispatch Center (EDC) are also fully trained and certified by the state. The EDC is a fully functional public safety answering point (PSAP) that is registered with the state and federal government, and is authorized to directly receive 911 calls. The dispatchers handle all types of emergency calls from around campus and dispatch police, fire, and emergency medical services. In addition, the dispatchers assist the greater community by helping the other public safety dispatch centers during times of crisis. From working on-scene in Hatch, NM during floods in 2006 to providing communications at Spaceport America for the fly-in of Spaceship One during the Keys to Excellence event in 2011, and a variety of other events in between and since, the NMSU dispatchers have demonstrated their ability to handle both disaster and large event emergency communications in Southern New Mexico.

The Police Department also employs a number of security officers and Public Safety Aids to assist the full-time staff. Some are assigned to work daytime, handling parking lot patrols and enforcement, while others work in the evenings, patrolling around housing and the student union building. There are also several dozen who work during special events to assist with bag searches, access control, traffic control, and general safety positions to help keep the events safe.

In addition to its own police department, the university also has its own Fire and Emergency Services Department (<https://fire.nmsu.edu/>) to provide fire protection and emergency medical response on the Las Cruces campus. A team of full-time, experienced fire professionals lead the department, but a large amount of the work is performed by student firefighters who are trained and certified as firefighters, emergency medical technicians, and even hazardous materials technicians. This department is unique to NMSU, and it provides not only a rapid response to emergencies on campus, but also a great way for students to get experience and work their way through school. The Department also provides mutual aid support to the nearby fire departments when they need assistance.

While not a traditional public safety agency, the Environmental Health, Safety & Risk Management Department (<https://safety.nmsu.edu/>) also works to ensure a safe environment at university facilities throughout the state. The staff provides safety training, assists with development of safety procedures, oversees laboratory safety and hazardous waste management, assists with emergency planning and response, and a host of other functions intended to help keep the campus safe.

As the entity responsible for managing facility operations on the Las Cruces campus, Facility Operations (https://facilities.nmsu.edu/facilities_operations/) plays a major role in keeping the campus safe. Facility Operations is responsible for the maintenance of the fire alarm systems, exterior lighting, and grounds care, as well as the maintenance, testing, and operation of the power, water, heating and cooling utility systems for the campus.

NMSU also maintains its own Aggie Health and Wellness Center (<https://wellness.nmsu.edu/>) to provide for the non-emergency medical and mental health needs of the community. The Center has full-time medical providers, psychologists, counselors, and healthcare staff including laboratory services and a pharmacy for students. The Center also provides immunization services for those preparing for trips abroad, as well as students entering health care, first responder, and research fields. The Center supports guidance for emergency preparedness from the New Mexico Department of Health, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and the American College Health Association and is nationally accredited for health care and counseling services.

SAFETY – EVERYONE’S BUSINESS

A campus community relies on a peaceful, safe, and secure environment. Preserving this environment is a responsibility everyone on campus shares. Members of the community are expected to be aware of the policies and procedures of the university and to promptly report any crime or suspicious activity.

Everyone needs to also be conscious of personal safety. While the NMSU Police Department and other campus safety entities work to keep the campus safe, they cannot do so when people intentionally choose to engage in risky activity. Everyone is encouraged to be aware of their surroundings and avoid suspicious or dangerous situations whenever possible. Campus community members are also encouraged to follow common safety practices that include locking doors and windows, using seatbelts, and avoiding the over-consumption of alcohol. Finally, campus community members are encouraged to report situations where a dangerous condition exists. This includes bystander reports when another person appears to be in danger and is unable to call for help themselves.

SECURITY OF BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The Las Cruces campus is relatively safe compared to other universities and cities its size. However, that does not mean it is crime free. Burglary and thefts occur more frequently than other crimes on campus, and students and employees are encouraged to always lock up valuables and not leave them unattended, as this contributes to a large portion of the thefts.

The majority of academic facilities are opened and closed by Facilities and Services Custodial staff. This applies to securing exterior doors of academic and non-academic buildings Monday through Friday. Buildings hours are typically from 7am to 6pm, while some facilities are open later due to classes. With minor exceptions, all facilities are secured by 12am daily. Facilities open on weekends are based on scheduled classes or events, and are typically secured by 6pm. Centrally scheduled classrooms are opened before 8am with the end of the day user securing the room. All other departmental rooms are opened and secured by their respective departments. Offices and laboratories are controlled by the facility user.

Over 20 facilities are under some form of electronic access control. Most of these buildings are open from 7am to 5:30pm. A valid NMSU ID is required to enter the building after closing, with traffic directed to the designated ADA entrance. An electronic access system controls the time and location of the doors that are open/closed. Reports record successful and denied access. Facility access requires an access form signed by the building authority granting access to users for the specific building, doors, and schedule. An access change form is also required when entry is terminated.

Some residence halls (Garcia Hall, Rhodes-Garrett-Hamiel Hall, Piñon Hall, and Juniper Hall) and campus apartments (Chamisa Village) have exterior common doors that are kept locked to help limit access to residents. Other residential facilities, such as Cervantes Village, Cole Village, Vista Del Monte, and Student Family Housing units are designed so the individual apartment or house doors open directly to public areas (e.g., sidewalks, driveways, parking lots, and/or common spaces).

For those residential units opening directly to public areas, peepholes are provided in the doors. Guests at enclosed facilities should enter through the main lobby of those facilities. However, students living in any housing units are responsible for keeping doors to their individual rooms locked, and all residents share responsibility for helping keep exterior doors from common/public areas closed and locked. In addition, residents should never allow someone to follow them through a door, nor should they prop doors open to allow others to enter, even if just for a minute or two. University Housing and Residential Life staff members are located within each of the facilities, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, to assist residents, as well as to help enforce housing regulations and university policy.

Security cameras are in place in some academic buildings and parking lots around campus, as well as in some of the common areas and entrances to the following residential facilities:

Juniper Hall
Rhodes/Garrett/Hamiel Hall
Piñon Hall
Garcia Hall

The Housing and Residential Life staff have plans for expansion of the security cameras in housing areas as funding allows. As of the time of this report, the number of security cameras on the NMSU Las Cruces campus exceeds 300. The cameras are generally not live monitored, but the Emergency Dispatch Center staff have the ability to pull up almost any camera to look at what is happening should a call come in.

ADDITIONAL HOUSING POLICIES

SECTION 2 – EMERGENCIES AND INCIDENTS, POLICIES & PROCEDURES

EMERGENCY NOTIFICATIONS, TIMELY WARNINGS, AND ADVISORIES

When there are major incidents or emergencies that affect a large number of people and that present an immediate threat to health or safety, NMSU will issue advisories, alerts, or warnings as appropriate and as long as doing so will not impede the public safety response or further endanger lives.

An Emergency Notification is used when there is an immediate threat or danger to either a segment of, or the entire, university campus. Examples include both manmade and natural disasters, such as structure fires, hazardous materials spills, violent crimes in progress, tornados, or similar emergency situations. The Incident Commander (usually police or fire) will, without delay and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of an Emergency Notification and have it sent, unless, in the professional judgement of the Incident Commander, doing so would compromise efforts to assist victims or contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

The Incident Commander (or Chief of Police, or designee, in the absence of an established Incident Command) evaluates the immediately available information when confirming whether an emergency or dangerous situation exists that may necessitate sending an Emergency Notification. This may include calls for help, personal observations, reports from other public safety personnel, sights, sounds, and crowd behavior, along with his/her prior knowledge and training. The Incident Commander (when established) or the Chief of Police (or designee) are responsible for making the determination that an emergency situation is “confirmed”. The number of people responsible for making this determination is kept very small in order to ensure rapid decision making and action, and to avoid delay that could be caused by the need to consult others prior to issuing an emergency alert. The Incident Commander will be from either the university Police Department or Fire Department for any rapidly-developing emergency.

The two agencies frequently form Unified Command in order to provide for a coordinated response. In the event Unified Command is established, the decisions coming out have the same authority as if a single Incident Commander is in place. Unified Command may be used even though each agency has clearly established responsibilities (e.g., Police responsibilities include incidents involving criminal activity, traffic crashes, terrorism, etc., and Fire responsibilities include incidents involving fires, hazardous materials, structure collapse, etc.). Other entities (e.g., utilities, outside agencies, and representatives of public schools) might be brought into Unified Command as needed and appropriate under the circumstances.

Because the university has its own Police and Fire Departments, it is able to handle all routine calls without reliance on outside entities for the crisis response portion of the emergency. If an incident overwhelms the available university resources, however, both the university Police and Fire Departments have mutual aid agreements in place in order to obtain rapid assistance from other agencies in the area. If the emergency still overwhelms available resources, requests for assistance are directed through the City of Las Cruces/Doña Ana County Office of Emergency Management, and then to the New Mexico Department of Homeland Security and Emergency Management. The Incident Commander (or Unified Command) is responsible for assessing the need for these additional, off-campus resources and obtaining them through the established channels (e.g., through the Emergency Dispatch Center or through activation of the regional Emergency Operations Center).

Emergency Notifications will generally contain the following information:

WHAT: This is a brief description of what is taking place. For example, it may indicate there is a tornado warning, a fire, a bomb threat, or a person shooting. If the message is not an emergency (e.g., a test message), it will be indicated here.

WHERE: This provides information about where the emergency is taking place. It will be as specific as the particular situation allows, but should always include which campus(es) is being affected.

ACTION: This is where recipients will find specific guidance on what to do as a result of the emergency (e.g., be on the lookout, shelter in place, evacuate, etc.). In order to make the system work as fast as possible, these messages are necessarily kept very brief, and additional information will usually be made available on the NMSU website homepage. (NOTE: On-scene direction from public safety personnel, media releases, update e-mails, and other forms of communication may also be used as appropriate. When you receive messages, make sure you follow the most current and specific guidance provided.)

MORE INFO: This section will explain where to go to get more detailed information regarding the emergency. This will usually include the university's website (www.nmsu.edu), but depending on the nature of the incident, other sources may be also be provided.

Emergency Notifications are generally sent using the NMSU Emergency Notification System (ENS). Participation in the ENS is mandatory for all students and employees at NMSU, with the official NMSU e-mail being the default notification. In order to receive text messages and phone calls, the student or employee must register the appropriate contact information at <https://emergency.nmsu.edu>.

In addition to, or in lieu of, the ENS activation, the Incident Commander may utilize other means of notifying people in the immediate vicinity of a localized emergency. These may include establishing a perimeter to keep people away, making announcements on a public address system, and activating a building alarm. This type of localized notification may be made if the Incident Commander determines there is no danger to others outside the scene of the emergency, someone cannot inadvertently become exposed to the emergency, and those inside the emergency can be properly notified and directed with the alternate means of communication.

If an evacuation of a building/facility is needed due to an emergency, the procedures described above for an Emergency Notification apply. More information on evacuations, including full-campus evacuations, can be found in the section on Emergency Plans, Tests, and Evacuations further down in this report.

A Timely Warning is used when there is a serious crime or an ongoing situation or crime trend that may pose a danger to people or property, but is not immediately dangerous (i.e., the crime has already taken place). The Police Department works with a small team of people on campus to evaluate the need for, and to issue, Timely Warnings in accordance with the requirements of the Clery Act. The following are the guidelines and considerations used when determining whether a Timely Warning should be issued:

- A) The following crimes are automatically considered to be “serious”, and a Timely Warning should be issued (absent exigent circumstances):
 - Murder
 - Rape
 - Robbery
 - Aggravated Assault
 - Hate Crimes

- B) The following crimes may be considered “serious” based on the totality of the circumstances, including the level of danger or risk present, and a Timely Warning might be issued if there is a danger to the university community:
 - Burglary (incl. residential vs. commercial)
 - Motor Vehicle Theft
 - Arson
 - Domestic Violence (including Dating Violence)
 - Stalking
 - Fondling
 - Incest
 - Arrests/Referrals for:
 - Weapon Violations
 - Drug Law Violations
 - Alcohol Law Violations

- C) Before issuing a Timely Warning, the Clery Advisory Committee personnel evaluate whether there is a “continuing threat” to the university community. This may include a determination as to whether:
 - a. The suspect poses a danger to more people than the original victim (an example of when there might not be a danger to the university community is when the selection of the victim was based on something that others are unlikely to experience, such as domestic violence against a spouse or child of the suspect, cyber-stalking of a former girlfriend or boyfriend when the suspect is in another state or country, etc.); and/or,
 - b. A pattern of two or more incidents that are, as a result of evidence obtained during the investigation, determined to be related and likely to continue.

- D) The Police Department personnel also consider other factors, on a case-by-case basis, including:

- a. Are all suspects from the crime already in custody or otherwise positively controlled (thus, physically cannot repeat the crime, so the campus community is in no further danger)?
- b. Has there been a significant delay between the time of the incident occurrence and when it was reported to police (thus it no longer serves a beneficial purpose to send out a Timely Warning)?
- c. Will the sending of a Timely Warning aid in the prevention of similar crimes (even crimes not listed above)?
- d. Was the crime likely to be a “one-off” crime of opportunity, as opposed to having been conducted by career criminals?
- e. Is sending a Timely Warning going to compromise law enforcement efforts?

Since the Clery Act requires that Timely Warnings be “likely to reach the entire campus community”, and since NMSU policy (ARP 15.15) indicates that every student, faculty, and staff member use their NMSU e-mail for official communication, Timely Warnings are issued via e-mail (using the NMSU “all” e-mail lists for either individual campuses, or the system). A key factor going into the issuing of Timely Warnings via e-mail (as opposed to other methods available) are the requirements on content, including that each message include:

- Pertinent information about the crime that triggered the warning; and
- Information that would promote safety and that would aid community members in preventing a similar crime

These requirements push message length well beyond the limits of SMS (text messaging), as well as what might be listened to and understood in a phone call/voicemail message. Since the Clery Act requires a “push” notification (affirmative message delivery by the institution), rather than a “pull” notification (posting it somewhere that people can go to find the information), there also aren’t any “shortcuts” to delivering the full message.

Industry practice is that the Timely Warning shouldn’t have any “victim blaming”, but should include information or tips that empower people to avoid committing the crime themselves, identify/stop/report crimes they may witness, and protect themselves from similar crime. Thus, the prevention tips usually are 5-10 items long, and are built specifically around the circumstances of the incident(s) that triggered the timely warning (so a person can prevent a “similar” crime).

An Advisory may be issued for crime or traffic situations that do not involve an immediate danger or are not Clery-reportable crimes (e.g., murder and rape are Clery-reportable crimes) may be sent out via official NMSU e-mail. These are usually sent in order to make the university community aware of a situation so it can be avoided. Planned road closures, heavy traffic due to special events, and ongoing crimes involving theft are examples of common advisories.

More information is also available at <http://staysafe.nmsu.edu> and <https://emergencyplanning.nmsu.edu/>. The final decision on whether to issue one of the above notices, and the information contained therein, rests with the NMSU Chief of Police. The Chief (or his designee) may make the decision not to issue a notice if the situation is deemed not to warrant one, or if doing so might hamper the ability of public safety personnel to respond to and contain the incident.

The NMSU Emergency Dispatch Center works with the Mesilla Valley Regional Dispatch Authority to monitor significant off-campus incidents. The Police Department has also asked outside law enforcement agencies to notify NMSU authorities of incidents that may warrant warnings to the NMSU community. However, this is not a guarantee these outside agencies will do so in every incident, nor in a timely manner. As a result, anyone believing an alert or warning is warranted for something taking place off campus should immediately contact the NMSU Police Department by calling 911 or (575) 646-3311.

EMERGENCY PLANS, TESTS, AND EVACUATIONS

NMSU has a multi-disciplinary committee called the Emergency Planning Committee that is responsible for developing the All Hazards Emergency Operations Plan. This plan guides the institutional response to emergencies, including the interaction between the public safety response (crisis management) and administrative response (consequence management).

Various aspects of this plan are tested each year, and the plan is continually reviewed and updated as necessary. This ranges from function tests, such as the scheduled activation of the Emergency Notification System each semester, to tabletop exercises, drills, functional exercises, and full-scale exercises. As noted below and in the Annual Fire Safety Report, fire evacuation drills (an example of a functional drill) of individual buildings/facilities are conducted near the beginning of each year for the residence facilities and for select academic buildings. The university also conducts at least one tabletop, functional, or full-scale exercise each year for key administrators who might be involved in a particular disaster/emergency response. Below are the details related to some of the tests and exercises conducted recently:

Date/Time: Wednesday, March 3, 2021, 12:00 pm
Description: System wide test of the Emergency Notification System
Conducted by: NMSU Emergency Planning Committee
Type: Test (scheduled)
Focus: Evaluated the operation of the Emergency Notification System and the dissemination of information on the NMSU homepage.

Date/Time: November 10, 2020
Description: Loss of IT infrastructure nationally as a result of cyber and physical attacks
Conducted by: NMSU Emergency Planning Committee
Type: Tabletop Exercise (scheduled)
Focus: Evaluated how the university might respond to a national loss of information and communication technologies, existing strengths, and areas for possible improvement.

Consistent with the university's Emergency Preparedness and Response policy and protocols (ARP 16.10), in the event of an emergency, the incident commander (as identified in ARP 16.01, ARP 16.10 and 16.15) is authorized to order the evacuation of any facility deemed appropriate in order to protect life. NMSU faculty, staff, and students are expected to evacuate facilities whenever building alarms indicate an evacuation is needed; however, they are encouraged to be prudent and evaluate the possibility of other threats or hazards. For example, if the alarm activation was maliciously conducted in order to lure people into a more vulnerable environment (e.g., into the sight of a violent attacker), they may disregard the facility alarm and take whatever action is reasonably necessary to protect themselves until such time as emergency responders are able to alleviate the danger.

While many institutions have plans for complete evacuation of their campuses, NMSU has worked with regional partners at the Doña Ana County/City of Las Cruces Office of Emergency Management to have an integrated large-scale evacuation plan. If there is an emergency that is so large that it causes the evacuation of the over 600 buildings and 5 square miles that make up the Las Cruces and DACC Espina campuses, then it is highly likely that it will also necessitate the evacuation of surrounding neighborhoods in the city and county. As such, an evacuation plan that only focuses on the university without coordination of surrounding entities would fail in actual emergencies. Complicating this issue is the large number of students who are not from close locations, to include over 1,000 students from foreign countries. These individuals cannot simply be told to "leave and go home". Current plans for a campus-wide evacuation include use of the NMSU Emergency Notification System, coordination with the regional Office of Emergency Management, and sheltering in other cities (due to insufficient hotel and shelter space within the Las Cruces area, particularly when hotels close to campus must be evacuated and when NMSU has the largest shelter facilities in the region). Per the regional plan, law enforcement personnel will be responsible for carrying out the actual evacuation, but will rely heavily on other resources for coordination, communication, transportation, sheltering, and related assistance.

EMERGENCY ACTIONS

If you are involved in a dangerous or life-threatening emergency, take the following steps immediately:

- ESCAPE: Get to a safe place as quickly as possible. Generally, the further you can get away from the scene, the safer you will likely be.
- SHELTER: If you cannot escape the danger, look for ways to shelter yourself from the danger.
- REPORT: Once you are safe, report the emergency by calling 911. Say, “This is an EMERGENCY”, give your LOCATION, and briefly tell WHAT is happening.
- AWARE: Monitor the situation to see if it gets worse or if circumstances (like wind direction) change. Notify the emergency services dispatcher (911 operators) of the changes.
- WARN: Notify others of the danger so they can also stay away, but don’t run into the danger zone to try to do so. Do it from a safe location.

All students and employees are also encouraged to prepare in advance for emergencies, whether from natural disasters (such as floods, tornados, earthquakes, extreme heat, lightning, disease outbreak, etc.) or manmade incidents (including traffic crashes, hazardous chemical releases, downed electrical lines, criminal activity, terrorism, arson, etc.). Additional information is available through <https://staysafe.nmsu.edu>.

NMSU conducts fire and evacuation drills in all residence halls and randomly selected buildings each fall and spring semesters. However, students and employees should not rely on these being the only times they think about emergency evacuations. Anytime a person enters a building, they should also look to see what other avenues of emergency escape exist, whether through additional doors, designated fire exits, or even windows. Students and employees should also know where the designated escape routes and exits are in those buildings they live and/or work in, as well as any potential specific challenges (such as stairs might present for a person in a wheelchair). Newer buildings on campus also have designated “safe haven” areas where a person may call for assistance and wait for fire personnel. However, these areas are not a guarantee, and the person should continually evaluate the conditions and decide whether or not it is still safe to remain in that area.

If you have to evacuate a building, you are encouraged to get to a place of safety away from the affected area. Do not stand around outside where you could become the victim of additional threats or hazards. (TIP: Going into another building/facility that is safe also provides you with access to restrooms, water fountains, a place to sit down, and protection from the weather.)

FIRE STATISTICS AND FIRE SAFETY REPORT

Statistics on fires and fire responses (other than arson), as well as the Fire Log, are managed by the NMSU Fire and Emergency Services Department. This Department also publishes the Annual Fire Safety Report, which is available online at <https://fire.nmsu.edu/wp-content/uploads/sites/45/2021/07/Annual-Report-2020-1.pdf>.

MISSING PERSON REPORTS

Anyone who has reason to believe a student or employee is missing from the NMSU campus should immediately call the NMSU Police Department at 911 or (575) 646-3311. The NMSU Police Department will start investigating immediately in order to try to locate the missing person. There is no 24-hour waiting period, and attempts to locate the person will include contacting surrounding law enforcement agencies, notifying the missing person's designated contact(s), notifying parents or guardians if the missing person is less than 18 years of age, contacting known family members and friends, and posting of bulletins and news releases. In addition, the Police Department will notify appropriate university officials that a person is missing, as well as the State of New Mexico Missing Person Information Clearinghouse (<http://www.missingpersons.dps.state.nm.us/>).

When students register for campus housing, they are required to provide the name and contact information for the person they want the institution to contact in the event they are reported missing. This may be the same person they have already designated as their "emergency contact" when registering for classes, or it may be someone different. The "missing person contact" information is required to be kept confidential by the Housing and Residence Life department, and is only to be released to the NMSU Police Department, and then only when the student has been reported missing. The emergency contact information provided during registration for classes may be used for other purposes related to situations affecting the safety and health of the student. (NOTE: If the student resident is under 18 years of age and is not legally emancipated by a court, the university must notify a custodial parent or guardian within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing, in addition to notifying whomever is designated by the student.)

Any university employee who, through the course of their employment, is informed that a person is missing from campus is required to immediately notify the NMSU Police Department (ARP 16.07). If there is information an abduction has just taken place, the employee should call 911. Otherwise, the person should call (575) 646-3311 and provide the information to the emergency services dispatcher. A police officer will then be dispatched to meet and gather additional information.

If a person is reported missing to Housing and Residence Life officials, the staff may conduct a brief, preliminary welfare check to attempt to locate the person, in accordance with Housing policies and procedures. If the person cannot be quickly located, the staff will immediately notify the NMSU Police Department to report the resident as missing, and to provide the "missing person contact" information. The NMSU Police Department will contact this person within 24 hours of receiving the missing person report. Police and Housing officials may enter the missing student's residence in an attempt to locate him/her. For more information on housing policies, visit <https://housing.nmsu.edu/guide/>.

IF YOU ARE THE VICTIM OF A CRIME

If you are the victim of a crime, whether while on campus or off campus, or experience a fire or medical emergency, you are encouraged to report it immediately by calling 911. For non-emergencies taking place on campus, call (575) 646-3311. When you call, give your name, the location you are calling from, a brief description of what occurred, and whether there is still a danger present (e.g., the person who committed the crime is still nearby). Prompt reporting and specific information will increase the chances of solving your case. A police officer will be dispatched to meet with you and obtain all of the necessary information. Here are some guidelines regarding preserving evidence while you wait for an officer:

- If evidence from the crime is still intact, try not to move or destroy it. This includes avoiding trying to clean up the area, moving or throwing away items, or wiping down surfaces.
- If there are text messages, e-mails, voice mails, or other electronic evidence, preserve the original (if possible) or make a copy/screenshot (if the original might be deleted, such as with Snapchat and similar programs) and provide this evidence to the police officer who responds;
- If you are being harassed or stalked, keep a log of any contact or sightings you have of the suspect, to include any third-party contacts where the suspect uses someone else to contact you or monitor your activities, as well as any contacts you receive off campus;
- If you are the victim of a sexual assault, avoid showering, changing clothes, or grooming, as these can destroy evidence. Protect any bedding or towels, clothes you were wearing, or other items where evidence may have been left. If possible, avoid the use of the bathroom, and consider getting a SANE Exam (described below) as soon as possible to identify and collect evidence that may be on your body. The first few hours are the most critical, but useful evidence can still be obtained 24 hours or more after some sexual assaults.
- If you chose to not report the crime immediately to police, you are still encouraged to write down as much as you can remember (when you are able) so that if you decide to report at a later time, you will have something to remind you of critical information. Try to include as many details about what happened, as well as everything you can remember about the suspect. Include things you saw, heard, and even smelled, tasted, or felt. Also try to write down things like other people who were around and might be witnesses, locations where different things happened, and any items that you have saved (such as text messages, e-mails, photos, phone messages, etc.) that might be relevant.
- If you are immediately contacting police, let officers gather the evidence. If you are not immediately notifying police, secure any possible evidence in separate clean paper bags or sheets to reduce the chances of contamination, loss, or destruction.

Even if you do not wish to file a police report right away, you may wish to preserve evidence using the above steps in case you later decide to contact police. This can help protect evidence that might assist later in the identification and/or prosecution of the person responsible for the crime. This can also preserve evidence you might want to use during an administrative hearing or civil lawsuit, should you choose either of those options.

Many students worry about reporting crimes to the police because they do not want to testify in a trial. Victims are nevertheless encouraged to at least contact the NMSU Police Department so they can be made aware of other services (counseling services, medical treatment, etc.) that might lessen the trauma of the incident. If the victim does not wish to pursue criminal charges, their wishes will be respected. Some of the most frequently accessed services include:

- SANE Exam: This is available through the La Piñon Rape Crisis Center, and is a medical exam that is designed to identify damage to your body as a result of a sexual assault so it can be treated. In addition, evidence of sexual assault can be identified and collected during this exam, and medical treatment can be provided (including prophylaxis to prevent disease). These exams are confidential, and are conducted by specially trained medical practitioners. You also have a right to have someone of your choosing with you during these exams. If you would like, a victim services advocate can accompany you and help with any questions you might have.
- Counseling: This service is available for students through the NMSU Aggie Health and Wellness Center, as well as a number of off-campus entities. The Aggie Health and Wellness Center does not charge for student counseling services, and services are confidential.
- Medical: In addition to the SANE exam, medical services are available on campus through the NMSU Aggie Health and Wellness Center. In addition, there are two medical centers in Las Cruces, and a large number of urgent care centers and clinics in the area. The medical centers have 24-hour emergency departments, and many of the urgent care centers and clinics have hours that extend into the evenings and on weekends.
- Protection Orders: While certain offices at the university can issue a “no contact” order against students or employees, such orders only apply on campus and might not apply to people not affiliated with the university. The NMSU Police Department’s Victim Services staff can assist victims of violence in obtaining "no contact" orders, as well as in obtaining temporary and permanent restraining orders from the state courts that will apply no matter where you might be, and no matter who the offender is. Victim services units with other law enforcement agencies offer similar assistance.
- Victim Services: This is a unit of the NMSU Police Department, and is staffed with a advocates who can assist victims with connecting to any of the above resources, making academic or housing changes, getting protective orders through the courts, obtaining emergency food and shelter, applying for special VISA authorizations for citizens of other countries, etc. Victims do not need to file a police report in order to receive assistance from the Victim Services unit.

Matters may also be reported to the NMSU Office of Institutional Equity or the NMSU Dean of Students for review of NMSU policy violations. While these are not a substitute for the criminal justice system, these reports focus on administrative proceedings for both employees and students related to NMSU policy and often are concurrent with any criminal investigation. Further, the Office of Institutional Equity is the Title IX office for the NMSU system. Students may request supportive measures such as: no contact orders, academic leniency, housing changes, etc., even if they are not ready to pursue an investigation. If an accused student or employee is found to have violated NMSU policy, including ARP 3.25 – Prohibition of All forms of Unlawful Discrimination or the Student Social Code of Conduct, such individual may be subject to disciplinary action. The level of disciplinary action administered depends on the specific circumstances of the case, but can range from warnings and attendance at mandatory programs up to and including expulsion or termination from NMSU. Any NMSU officials who becomes aware that a person has been the victim of a sexual assault or other crime on the NMSU campus is encouraged to assist the person in notifying the police department if the victim so desires, or if the victim is unable to do so (e.g., due to physical or mental incapacitation). In no case will any university official discourage reporting of a crime to police when the victim wants to file a report.

In addition to police reports, victims of crimes identified under the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), may file a complaint with the NMSU Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Institutional Equity. These crimes include sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

Here are steps victims of crimes should consider:

1. Get to a safe place as soon as you can. If you are willing and able, you might want to speak with someone you trust and tell them what happened so they can assist you.
2. If you are still in danger, call 911 to notify police and get help (whether on or off campus).
3. Consider getting immediate professional support (e.g.: counseling, victim advocacy, medical services, etc.) to assist you in the crisis. If you are unsure of how to obtain assistance, you can contact the NMSU Police Department's Victim Services Office at (575) 646-3311 at any time day or night, and you do not have to make a police report in order to be provided services.
4. If you are on the East Mesa Campus during regular business hours, you may go to the DACC Vice President for Student Services Office for support and guidance. This is a confidential resource located at the Student Resources Building, Room 106.
5. If you are the victim of a sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, you may file a complaint with the Title IX Coordinator in the NMSU Office of Institutional Equity (575-646-3635).
6. If you have been injured, or are the victim of a sexual assault, immediate medical attention is encouraged.

SEXUAL ASSAULT, HARASSMENT, AND STALKING

NMSU specifically prohibits sexual misconduct and will assist victims in seeking counseling (available through the Aggie Health and Wellness Center or several off-campus organizations), obtaining medical treatment (available through the Campus Health Center and local hospitals), changing room assignments, making academic changes, and in any other way possible, including criminal prosecution through the District Attorney's Office (if the victim so desires). Students, faculty and staff, and visitors are reminded that they can contact the NMSU Police Department for assistance at any time, and do not have to file an official police report in order to be helped. If a report is filed with the NMSU Police Department, it will be fully investigated with the findings being referred to the District Attorney's Office for prosecutorial decisions. (NOTE: The state statutes related to sexual assault, harassment, stalking, and other crimes can be found in Section 4 of this publication.)

The university prohibits sexual misconduct by students and employees. Such conduct includes sexual assault and sexual harassing conduct. (NMSU definitions may be found at equity.nmsu.edu)

When a student or employee reports to the Office of Institutional Equity or the Police Department that they have been a victim of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking (whether taking place on campus or off campus), they are provided with an explanation of their rights and options. They are also given written notification regarding available counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available to victims, both within the university and in the surrounding community.

The university requires all employees to complete training on an annual basis regarding sexual harassment and misconduct, and all incoming students must complete similar training prior to being allowed to enroll for classes. Additional information and training programs regarding sexual misconduct, beyond this initial training, are available through the Office of Institutional Equity, the Dean of Students, Office of Health Promotion, the Aggie Health and Wellness Center, the Campus Health Center, and the NMSU Police Department. Contact information for each of these can be found near the end of this publication on Page 61.

Sexual misconduct often overlaps with crimes of sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, and domestic violence. As a result, sexual misconduct cases may be handled administratively by NMSU's Office of Institutional Equity for policy violations, as well as by law enforcement for criminal violations. Each system has its own processes and standards. In addition, there are differences between federal definitions used to report violations of university policies, and state statutes used to prosecute offenders in the criminal justice system.

NMSU investigates reported sexual misconduct (including dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking) through the Office of Institutional Equity/Title IX Coordinator (administrative policy violations investigation), as well as through the appropriate law enforcement agencies (the criminal investigation). NMSU has revised policy and implemented new procedures, effective August 14, 2020, in compliance with regulations promulgated by the U.S. Department of Education issued May 2020. (See section NMSU Policy, ARP 3.25, below). NMSU administrative investigations utilize a preponderance of the evidence standard. During OIE Title IX proceedings, both the Complainant and Respondent have the right to /an Advisor. If a party does not have an Advisor, NMSU will appoint an Advisor for the party.. For OIE matters reported or occurring prior to August 14, 2020: The findings of investigations will be sent to the Provost's Office. The Provost's Office issues a determination on violations of policy. If violations are found, the matter is referred to the Dean of Student's Office (for students) or Human Resources (for employees) for implementation of sanctions. Appropriate disciplinary action is taken based on the circumstances of the individual incident. For students, potential disciplinary action may include the following sanctions: expulsion from university housing; mandatory completion of an education program; completion of mandatory counseling; suspension; expulsion; and/or ban from the university. For employees, possible sanctions include: documented counseling, written reprimand, suspension without pay; termination; and/or ban from the university.

More information regarding student discipline hearings can be found at: <https://studenthandbook.nmsu.edu/>. For more information regarding OIE proceedings, further information can be found at <https://equity.nmsu.edu/>.

In an effort to reduce the risk of sexual misconduct as well as the crimes of rape, sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, dating violence and domestic violence occurring among its students and employees, the University utilizes a range of campaigns, strategies and initiatives to provide awareness, educational, risk reduction and prevention programming. Educational programs are offered to raise awareness for all incoming students and employees, and are conducted during new student and new employee orientation and throughout an incoming student's first semester. These programs and others offered throughout the year include strong messages regarding not just awareness, but also primary prevention (including normative messaging, environmental management and bystander intervention), and discuss institutional policies on sexual misconduct as well as Title IX, and the State of New Mexico's, definitions of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and consent in reference to sexual activity. Bystander engagement is encouraged through safe and positive intervention techniques and by empowering third-party intervention and prevention such as calling for help, identifying allies, and/or creating distractions.

Programs also offer information on risk reduction that strives to empower victims, teaches them how to recognize warning signals and how to avoid potential attacks, and to do so without victim-blaming approaches. Throughout the year, ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns are directed to students and employees, including faculty, often taking the form of presentations in University 150 classes, information booths at community events, emails, regularly scheduled crime prevention and personal protection classes, and a variety of programs offered through the Wellness, the Office of Health Promotion.

MEASURES TAKEN BY NMSU

Sexual misconduct, gender-based violence or the crimes of sexual assault, stalking, dating violence or domestic violence are taken very seriously. The NMSU Police Department investigates all crimes reported to have taken place on the Las Cruces and DACC Espina campuses. Students may also file (or file in lieu of a criminal report) an administrative report/complaint with the university for incidents involving dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking by contacting the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Institutional Equity at (575) 646-3635. Reports of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking are reviewed to determine if the incident alleged could be a violation of Title IX. If a violation of Title IX is alleged, the case is assigned to an OIE investigator to conduct a full investigation. At the conclusion of the investigation, a Report of Investigation is provided in accordance with OIE's procedures and a determination will be made regarding if a violation of NMSU Rule 3.25 (Prohibition of All Forms of Unlawful Discrimination) occurred.

The university implements supportive measures, such as no contact orders and changes to housing arrangements, in any case where a student's or employee's behavior represents a risk of violence, threat, pattern or predation. Anyone wishing to file an administrative report of such an incident to the university may do so by contacting the Office of Institutional Equity at (575) 646-3635 or online at <https://equity.nmsu.edu/>. Anyone may also report to NMSU Police or other law enforcement if they wish to pursue criminal charges. NMSU employees with knowledge about sexual misconduct or gender-based violence or the crimes of sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, dating violence or domestic violence are required to report immediately to the Office of Institutional Equity.

For offenses including sexual misconduct or other gender-based violence, which typically include : domestic violence, dating violence, sexual harassment, sexual misconduct and stalking, sanctions against student offenders range from warnings through expulsion. Serious and violent incidents and acts of sexual offenses by employees usually result in suspension, with or without pay, or termination of employment.

Procedurally, when NMSU receives a report of sexual misconduct, gender-based violence, or other sex or gender discrimination the campus Title IX Coordinator is notified. If the Complainant wishes to access local community agencies or law enforcement for support, the university will assist the Complainant in making these contacts. The Office of Institutional Equity may offer assistance to victims in the form of supportive measures such as opportunities for academic accommodations, changes in housing for the Parties, visa and immigration assistance, changes in working situations and other assistance as may be appropriate and available on campus or in the community (such as no contact orders, campus escorts, transportation assistance, targeted interventions, etc.). If the Complainant so desires, they will be connected with a counselor on- or off-campus, as well as an on- or off-campus Sexual Assault advocate. No victim is required to take advantage of these services and resources, but the university provides them in the hopes of offering help and support without condition or qualification. A summary of rights, options, supports and procedures is provided to all victims, whether they are a student, employee, guest or visitor by the Office of Institutional Equity (or designee).

When appropriate upon receipt of notice, the Title IX Coordinator will cause a prompt, fair and impartial process to be initiated, commencing with an investigation which may lead to the imposition of sanctions upon an individual found responsible, based upon a preponderance of evidence. Preponderance of evidence means it is more likely than not that the incident occurred. Procedures detailing the investigation and resolution processes of the university, revised 09/3/2021, are outlined in the section NMSU Policy, ARP 3.25, below. The Title IX Coordinator is ultimately responsible to assure in all cases that the discriminatory conduct is brought to an end, the university acts to reasonably prevent its recurrence and the effects on the victim and the community are remedied. The Title IX Coordinator is also responsible to assure that training is conducted annually in order to protect the safety of all students and employees and promote accountability. Training will focus on sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, sexual harassment, retaliation and other behaviors that can be forms of sex or gender discrimination covered by Title IX and the Clery Act. Training will help those decision-makers in the process to protect the safety of complainants and to promote accountability for those who commit offenses.

In any complaint of sexual misconduct, sexual assault, stalking, dating violence, domestic violence or other sex or gender-based discrimination covered under Title IX, the person bringing the accusation and the responding party are entitled to the same opportunities for an advisor of their choice throughout the process, including any meeting, conference, hearing or other procedural action. Once complete, the parties will be informed, in writing, of the outcome, including the finding, the sanctions (if any). Delivery of this outcome will be issued to the parties, and will occur at the same time and utilizing the same method of delivery. All parties will be informed of the university's appeal processes, and their rights to appeal. Should any change in outcome occur prior to finalization, all parties will be timely informed in writing, and will be notified when the results of the resolution process become final.

NMSU POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Below are summaries or excerpts of the NMSU Administrative Rules and Procedures. They include policies and procedures related to Clery Act Compliance (from ARP 16.12), as well as policies and procedures related to discrimination, sexual misconduct, harassment, alcohol, drugs, and related topics. For discriminatory matters, see the section NMSU Policy, ARP 3.25, below. The complete and current NMSU Policies and Procedures and the Administrative Rules and Procedures can be found at <https://arp.nmsu.edu/>.

Reporting of crimes and emergencies

Students, faculty, staff, and guest are encouraged to assist anyone they encounter who is experiencing an emergency or is a victim of a crime, and to promptly report any emergencies or crimes they witness or experience, as follows:

- A. All Emergencies (police, fire, medical): To report an emergency, community members should call 911. NMSU maintains a full public safety answering point (PSAP, or 911 Emergency Dispatch Center) that works in conjunction with others in the area to appropriately route calls and send emergency assistance.
- B. Emergency Notifications and Timely Warnings: Anyone who thinks an emergency notification or timely warning is needed should immediately contact the NMSU Police Department (either 911 or (575) 646-3311).
- C. All Crimes: All suspected or witnessed crimes on the Las Cruces campus should be reported to the NMSU Police Department (Emergencies – 911; Non-emergencies – 646-3311)
- D. Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault, and Stalking: Even if a victim chooses not to report this type of crime to the NMSU Police Department or local law enforcement agency with jurisdiction, these crimes must be reported by campus security authorities and responsible employees to the university's Title IX Coordinator, pursuant to ARP 3.25 or be reported in accordance with 16.78.
- E. Misuse of university resources: Crimes involving misuse of university resources may be reported to the NMSU Police Department or local law enforcement agency with jurisdiction. Suspected financial misconduct or misuse of university resources may also be reported for internal administrative investigation and corrective action to Audit Services (audit@nmsu.edu), to Human Resource Services if involves employee misconduct (elr@nmsu.edu) or through an the university's online reporting system, EthicsPoint : https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/en/default_reporter.asp). Administrators will report to the NMSU Police Department or local law enforcement agency when facts indicate the possibility of criminal activity.

Campus Security Authorities (CSAs) NMSU Rule 16.12 Part 7

CSAs are individuals who the institution has identified are people that individuals might approach and notify that there has been a crime, even though they may not be designated as people to whom crimes should be reported. The campus security authorities at the NMSU Las Cruces campus are:

1. police officers;
2. emergency dispatchers;
3. security officers and others assigned to monitor or control access to NMSU property;
4. victim advocates;
5. Housing & Residence Life staff;
6. Dean of Students staff;
7. Director of Campus Activities;
8. Coordinator of Fraternity and Sorority Life;
9. advisors to student organizations;
10. Title IX Coordinator and OIE staff;
11. Director of Athletics;
12. Athletic Department coaches (including assistants and graduate assistants);
13. Director of the Aggie Health Center;
14. Chief Audit Officer; and
15. other individuals who have responsibility for campus security or significant authority for students or campus activities.

Training is offered by the Center for Learning & Professional Development and the Police Department for personnel filling the above positions to help ensure they understand their role and responsibilities in reporting crimes to the NMSU Police Department. Personnel in the above roles cannot offer nor guarantee confidentiality as it relates to reporting of crimes, though efforts are often made to protect the safety and privacy of crime victims to the extent allowed by law.

The primary duty of CSA personnel designated is to report to the NMSU Police Department any allegation or information about a Clery Crime reported to them or any other emergency situation. It is not within the CSA's authority to investigate, to apprehend an alleged perpetrator, or to persuade the alleged victim to file a police report.

NMSU Rule 16.60 - Permitted Alcohol on NMSU Premises (also addresses illegal drugs)

This rule specifies when and where alcohol is allowed, and what events may involve the serving or consumption of alcohol. Alcohol is only allowed if its possession and use are consistent with local, state, and federal laws, and only if it does not interfere with the academic atmosphere of the university. Sales of alcohol are prohibited unless specifically approved by the university and conducted in accordance with state law, to include requirements for a dispenser license. NMSU explicitly prohibits the unlawful use, possession, sale, or distribution of alcohol, controlled substances (drugs), or drug paraphernalia by all students, employees, and guests. Violations of applicable local, state, or federal laws is considered a violation of the institution's policies. (See also, ARP 16.12, Part 4 and Part 5, which specifically states that the NMSU Police Department is authorized to enforce laws related to illegal alcohol and drug use, and the Dean of Students and Human Resources offices enforce the policy violations.)

Underage possession or consumption of alcohol is also specifically prohibited. Students who violate the rules and procedures are referred to the Dean of Students Office for violation of the Student Social Code of Conduct, in addition to facing criminal charges (see arrests and disciplinary referrals later in this report). Related sections of the Student Social Code of Conduct (contained in ARP 5.22 at <https://arp.nmsu.edu/5-22/>) include Part B (Alcohol) and Part I (Drugs). Employees found in violation are also subject to criminal charges, as well as being referred for human resources action. The full Rule can be found in the Administrative Rules and Procedures at <https://arp.nmsu.edu/16-60/>. (See also Drugs and Alcohol in Section 3, below)

Abuse Programs required under the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act (DFSCA)
(see also, Section IV – Crime Statistics, Drug Free Schools and Communities Act)

NMSU publishes reports and resources related to the Drug Free Schools and Communities Acts at https://studentlife.nmsu.edu/Drug_Free/drug-free-schools.html. Students with a concern about their level of abuse can see professional staff to objectively assess the impact that their use has on their lives. This assessment is accomplished using inventories, online tools such as 3rd Millennium's Alcohol-Wise and Marijuana 100, and/or through the clinical interview. Motivational interviewing is utilized when working with students who are not ready to address or change their use of substances. One specific strategy for assessment and intervention is the BASICS (Brief Alcohol Screening in College Students) program. This two-session intervention accepts referrals from the Dean of Students Office, Housing and Residential Life, and Campus Health and Wellness.

The first time a student is found in violation of the alcohol rule, without other mitigating circumstances, the student is required to complete an education program, pay any relevant administrative fees and receives a written warning. The second time a student is found responsible for violating the alcohol rule, the student is required to complete BASICS, pay any relevant administrative fees, and receives a 16 week probation.

Once an assessment is completed, staff assists the student to set appropriate goals with strategies to attain those goals. Other resources utilized are community Alcoholics Anonymous groups. If the assessment determines that the student needs additional services beyond what the Aggie Health and Wellness Center can provide, the student is referred to community outpatient or inpatient treatment programs.

The Aggie Health and Wellness Center provides students with support for their efforts to maintain sobriety. Many students have had treatment or have ended their use of harmful substances independently. Through group interventions, crisis services, and individual counseling, the Center helps students avoid relapse by assisting with stress management, self-regulation, and relationship or other issues (i.e., depression, anxiety) that may be contributing to relapse.

NMSU Policy, ARP 3.25, Prohibition of All Forms of Unlawful Discrimination (effective 09/3/2021)

PART 1: NON-DISCRIMINATION AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITY NOTICEThe New Mexico State University system (“NMSU”) is dedicated to providing equal opportunity to learning and employment.

A. NMSU does not discriminate on the basis of age, ancestry, color, disability, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, serious medical condition, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, spousal affiliation or protected veteran status in its programs and activities as required by federal and state equal opportunity/affirmative action regulations and laws and NMSU policy and rules.

B. Office of Institutional Equity (“OIE”) is designated as the office that receives and processes internal discrimination complaints for NMSU. Complaints of discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual violence and/or retaliation should be directed to the OIE at equity@nmsu.edu, via the OIE website at <https://equity.nmsu.edu/home/incident-report.html> or submitted in person at the address listed herein. Complaints may also be filed with the Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and/or the New Mexico Human Rights Division.

C. OIE is a neutral investigatory unit housed on the NMSU main campus in Las Cruces, New Mexico, serving the entire NMSU system.

D. NMSU has designated the OIE Executive Director (“Executive Director”) as the Title IX Coordinator. As Title IX Coordinator, the OIE Executive Director is responsible for ensuring compliance with Title IX and all state and federal laws addressing sex and gender-based harassment, including sexual assault, sexual exploitation, sexual intimidation, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and other forms of sexual violence based on sex, gender, sexual orientation or gender identity. In the event of a conflict between NMSU policies and procedures and applicable federal and state laws administered by the Office of Institutional Equity (e.g. Title IX and associated regulations), federal and state law will supersede.

E. NMSU recognizes that individuals with disabilities are entitled to access, support and reasonable accommodation, when requested and supported through medical documentation. The Executive Director is charged with ensuring NMSU complies with Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the American’s with Disabilities Act (ADA) and all state and federal laws that prohibit discrimination on the basis of disability in admission, treatment and/or access to its programs and activities.

F. Inquiries regarding equal opportunity, affirmative action, Title IX, Sections 503 and 504, and ADA should be directed to:

Office of Institutional Equity
O'Loughlin House
MSC 3515
New Mexico State University
P.O. Box 30001
Las Cruces, NM 88003-8001
575-646-3635, fax: 575-646-2182
equity@nmsu.edu

- G. Where a violation of NMSU policies, rules or procedures is found to have occurred, NMSU will act to stop the conduct, prevent its recurrence, remedy its effects and discipline those responsible in accordance with NMSU policy.
- H. No employee or student, neither in the workplace or in the academic environment, should be subjected to discrimination. Even one incident of misconduct may constitute a violation of policy, rule or procedure. NMSU expects students, faculty and staff to treat one another and campus visitors with respect.
- I. Whether an action is discriminatory under law and/or policy will be determined based on the specific facts of each case and the context under which the conduct occurred.
1. Some conduct may be inappropriate, unprofessional, and/or subject to disciplinary action, but not fall under the definition of discrimination/sexual harassment/sexual misconduct.
 2. Action taken will depend on the nature and seriousness of the conduct alleged and proven.

PART 2: TITLE IX NOTICE

- A. NMSU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in education programs or activities. Title IX of the Education Amendment Act of 1972 is a federal law that states, "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."
- B. Title IX prohibits:
1. Sexual misconduct (sexual violence)
 2. Sexual harassment (discrimination on the basis of sex or gender)
 3. Stalking
 4. Domestic Violence
 5. Dating Violence
 6. Retaliation
- C. Title IX applies to all NMSU students, staff and faculty. NMSU policy requires reporting, of any discriminatory or alleged discriminatory conduct, by all "responsible employees". [1] Responsible employees include:
1. Those with the authority to address and remedy sex-based discrimination and harassment; and/or
 2. Those with the responsibility to report sexual misconduct to a supervisor and OIE; and/or
 3. Those who a student would reasonably believe have such authority or obligation.

- D. NMSU has “actual knowledge” of discriminatory conduct when notice of sexual harassment or allegations of sexual harassment are made to the Title IX coordinator or any NMSU official who has the authority to institute corrective measures.
- E. In assessing OIE’s jurisdiction of off-campus behavior under Title IX, as well as all other alleged discriminatory conduct, OIE will apply a two-pronged test:
1. Does NMSU have control over the harasser; and
 2. Does NMSU have control over the context of the harassment (on our property, in our programs, on land we lease or control, or at events we sponsor).
 - a. NMSU reserves the option to take jurisdiction of off-campus misconduct when deemed necessary due to the involvement and/or impact on students and/or employees.
 - b. Discriminatory conduct, alleged to have occurred outside of the United States of America, must be reported, but will be investigated as a policy violation, not as a Title IX policy violation.
- F. NMSU will respond promptly to reports of sexual harassment in an education program or activity.
- G. As the designated Title IX Coordinator, the Executive Director is charged with oversight of the resolution of Title IX complaints, as well identifying and addressing systematic problems and patterns of conduct arising from such complaints. The Executive Director is authorized to appoint Deputy Title IX Coordinators(s).

PART 3: PROHIBITION OF SEX DISCRIMINATION/SEXUAL HARASSMENT

- A. NMSU is committed to providing a place of work and learning free of sexual misconduct which includes sexual harassment, sexual misconduct and sexual violence. Engaging in sexual behavior that is inappropriate, unwanted, unsolicited and without consent is a violation of NMSU policy.
- B. Sexual harassment under Title IX includes: (1) quid pro quo; (2) “unwelcome conduct” of a sexual nature that a reasonable person would find “so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive” that it effectively denies someone equal access to an education program; or (3) sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking.
- C. No student or employee, either in the workplace or in the academic environment, should be subjected to unwelcome, non-consensual, non-verbal, verbal or physical conduct that is of a sexual nature. Even one incident may constitute a violation of NMSU policy, rule or procedure.
- D. Conduct of a sexual nature, constitutes a violation of NMSU policy and/or law and policy when:
1. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment or academic status;
 2. Submission to or rejection of the conduct is used as a basis for academic or employment decisions or evaluations, or permission to participate in an activity; or
 3. The conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual’s academic or work performance, or creating an intimidating, hostile and offensive environment in which to work or learn.

PART 4: PROHIBITION OF RETALIATION

- A. Retaliation against an individual who in good faith reports allegations of discriminatory conduct or provides information in an investigation about behavior that may violate NMSU policy, rules or procedures is prohibited.
 - 1. Such conduct will be grounds for disciplinary action, up to and including termination/suspension from the university.
- B. Any student or employee engaging in the protected activity of making a complaint/report of discrimination or sexual harassment, in good faith, and/or cooperating in an investigation of allegations, may not be adversely affected in the terms and conditions of their education or employment.
- C. Retaliation includes, but is not limited to:
 - 1. Adverse action taken to keep someone from opposing a discriminatory practice, or from participating in a discrimination proceeding;
 - 2. Employment actions such as terminations, refusal to hire and denial of promotion;
 - 3. Action, such as an assault or unfounded threats, or actual civil or criminal charges that are likely to deter a reasonable person from pursuing their rights; or
 - 4. An unfair or unjustified grade.

PART 5: NMSU SYSTEM-WIDE APPLICABILITY; SANCTIONS

All students and employees are subject to Regent's Policy Manual 3.25 and this rule. Students or employees found to have violated NMSU's anti-discrimination policies, rules or procedures will be subject to corrective action, commensurate with the severity of the violation, in accordance with NMSU's rules governing student and employee discipline.

The applicable federal and state laws listed in Part 1 above have superseding effect over any and all pre-existing NMSU Administrative Rules and Procedures, including ARP 10.10 and 10.50, relating to employee investigation, findings, supportive measures, proposed corrective action and disciplinary processes, precedents and policies. Due process and sanctions for violating Title IX provisions will be administered solely under the guidance of ARP 3.25 for faculty, staff and students, for compliance with federal and state mandates.

Reports/Complaints of alleged discriminatory conduct by visitors, consultants, independent contractors and other third parties at NMSU should also be made to OIE. OIE will work with other NMSU departments, units and colleges, to take necessary steps to protect the NMSU community from discriminatory conduct including, but not limited to: restricting access to campus facilities for individuals engaging in this conduct, requiring training, written notice, and any and all other steps necessary to stop the conduct and prevent recurrence.

PART 6: POLICY DISTRIBUTION

Notice of this policy and how it may be accessed will be distributed annually to all NMSU students and employees. Human Resource Services ("HRS") and OIE will maintain documentation of distribution. New employees will be provided with notice of this policy at the time of hire. A link to this policy will be maintained on the OIE website at <http://equity.nmsu.edu>.

PART 7: STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES FOR PROCESSING COMPLAINTS OF DISCRIMINATION

The Office of Institutional Equity, in consultation with the Office of General Counsel, is authorized to issue and publish at <https://equity.nmsu.edu> standard operating procedures for processing complaints of discrimination, including the presumption of innocence on the part of the respondent, supportive measures for involved parties, the procedures for internal investigations, the procedures for live hearings if required, and the procedures for the parties' to appeal. The standard operating procedures will comply with applicable federal regulations, including the 2020 update to the Title IX regulations, and any corresponding Department of Education guidance that may be subsequently issued.

[1] NMSU Policy requires reporting by Responsible Employees of all conduct alleged to be discriminatory, whether under Title IX or Title VII.

SEX OFFENDERS

In accordance with the Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act of 2000 and the Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006 (42 U.S.C. 16921), the university is providing a link to the State of New Mexico Sex Offender Registry. All sex offenders are required to register in the State of New Mexico and to provide notice to each institution of higher education in New Mexico at which the person is employed, carries a vocation or is a student, even if the student is taking classes online and is not physically present in the state. The registry is maintained by the State of New Mexico and can be found at <http://www.nmsexoffender.dps.state.nm.us>. In addition to other legal requirements, any convicted sex offender who is a student or employee of the university is required to register with the university Police Department, as well as make notification to either the Registrar's Office (if a student) or the department head of their employing department (if an employee), or both (if both a student and an employee). They also must report any changes in their status, such as changing from student to employee, employee to student, or termination of employment. As of September 20, 2021, no known sex offenders live on the NMSU Las Cruces campus based on a search of this database.

In addition to the above notice to the State of New Mexico, all sex offenders are required to deliver written notice of their status as a sex offender to the NMSU Police Department no later than three (3) business days prior to their enrollment in, employment with, volunteering at or residence in the university. Such notification may be disseminated by the university to, and for the safety and well-being of, the university community, and may be considered by the university for enrollment and discipline purposes.

SECTION 3 – SAFETY AND SECURITY PROGRAMS

As noted earlier, there are a number of university departments involved in campus safety efforts. In addition to their primary functions (e.g., housing, police, fire, etc.), many of these areas have programs to help provide the students, faculty, and staff with information and education about how to stay safe both on and off campus. The following is a description of these programs:

CRIME PREVENTION

The university has a robust crime prevention program aimed at providing members of the university community with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary to reduce the chance that they might be the victim of a crime, as well as reduce the potential for being impacted by other emergencies like traffic crashes. The following is a description of the various aspects of the program:

OUTREACH

The employees of the Police Department routinely work with a variety of departments and areas on campus to provide crime prevention talks and information on an as-needed/on-demand basis. While COVID-19 Safe Practices have limited what can be taught in person, the following are still being offered when possible:

- Aggie Welcome Orientation: A 15-minute talk to parents of incoming students about campus safety, including how to get help in an emergency, police services available, and general safety tips.
- Graduate Student Orientation: A 3-minute talk to incoming graduate students on how to get help in an emergency, availability of the Police Department, and some crime prevention tips.
- International Student Orientation: A variable-length presentation on the Police Department, cultural differences, crimes that often target international students, and general safety information.
- Academic Classes: At the request of faculty, the Police Department staff provide presentations in a variety of academic courses throughout the year. These range from brief introductions and general safety tips that last only a few minutes, to entire class periods focused on a single topic (like active shooter/killer response).
- Timely Safety Tips: The Police Department also routinely publishes safety information on social media and via e-mail on timely topics. These include traffic safety advisories, reminders on traffic safety (e.g., wearing seat belts, stopping at stop signs and traffic lights, pedestrian safety, bicycle safety, etc.), and general crime prevention information.

In addition to the efforts by the Police Department, the Environmental Health, Safety, and Risk Management Department has crime prevention outreach that includes:

- New Employee Orientation: The EHS&RM staff present at the New Employee Orientation sessions and provide the attendees with general safety information, including how to get help in emergencies, how to add more contact information for receiving emergency notifications, safety efforts by NMSU, and workplace specific safety information (including how to report injuries).

The Dean of Students Office also engages in crime prevention efforts. These include the following:

- New Student Orientations: The Dean of Students presents to each orientation (first-year and transfers) regarding the Student Social Code of Conduct; definitions of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and consent; rights of the victim; where a victim can report on campus providing an explanation of reporting offices and offices which hold confidentiality; steps to take in case of a crime of violence; and bystander behavior. For students who do not attend a face-to-face orientation, they must complete an on-line orientation. A component of the on-line orientation is information related to defining dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and consent; rights of the victim; where a victim can report on campus; providing an explanation of reporting offices and offices which hold confidentiality; steps to take in case of a crime of violence; and bystander behavior.

CLASSES AND WORKSHOPS

Outside of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Police Department regularly hosts a variety of programs that are available to members of the university community. These are scheduled by the Police Department and announced through social media (www.facebook.com/nmsupolice) and e-mails (including Hotline and Student Hotline). Anyone interested in these programs can call (575) 646-3311 and ask to be put in contact with the coordinator of whichever program they are interested in attending.

- Personal Self Defense and Jane Jitsu: learn and practice prevention, awareness, and escape techniques in these programs (FREQUENCY: Offered at least once each semester. LENGTH: 4 hours.)
- Pepper Spray: learn to use pepper sprays for self defense (FREQUENCY: Offered at least once each semester. LENGTH: 2 hours.)
- Active Shooter/Killer Response: learn what to do if caught in an active shooter/killer incident, as well as any major emergency (FREQUENCY: Offered at least three times each semester. LENGTH: 90 minutes, with 1 hour and 2 hour versions available on demand.)
- Dealing with Difficult People and Violence in the Workplace: learn about the causes of workplace violence and how to reduce its likelihood (FREQUENCY: Offered at least once each semester. LENGTH: 90 minutes, with other lengths available on demand.)
- Stop The Bleed: learn the national standard for stopping major bleeding in an emergency, including how to recognize it, how to get help, direct pressure, wound packing, and use of tourniquets. (FREQUENCY: Offered at least once each semester. LENGTH: 90 minutes.)

Classes can be scheduled “on demand” at the request of any on-campus (and some off-campus) groups or organizations. (The minimum attendance for on-demand classes is 10 people.) In addition, the Police Department works with others on campus, such as Housing and Residence Life, to design specific public education workshops for the needs of each area (e.g., First Aid & CPR). Courses are tailored for each audience, and range in length from 15 minutes to 8 hours. Individuals or groups interested are encouraged to contact the university Police Department at (575) 646-3311. Additional information regarding safety can also be found at www.nmsupolice.com and <https://safety.nmsu.edu/>, as well as by following the university Police Department Facebook and Twitter accounts (<http://facebook.com/nmsupolice> and <https://twitter.com/NMSUPolice>).

SECURITY CAMERAS

The Las Cruces campus currently has over 300 security cameras that all feed a central recorder/server. They are mounted in a variety of academic buildings, as well as several outdoor areas and parking lots. With the completion of Juniper Hall, they are also now being installed in the common areas of dorms. As noted near the beginning of this report, they have since been expanded to Rhodes/Garrett/Hamiel Hall, Piñon Hall, and Garcia Hall. While these cameras are not live monitored, the NMSU Emergency Dispatch Center has direct access to the live feeds and has used them to help direct responders in emergencies. In addition, police officers are able to review recorded footage to gather evidence during criminal investigations.

AHWC OFFICE OF HEALTH PROMOTION (OHP) formerly Wellness Alcohol Violence Education-WAVE Program

OHP is a harm-reduction office and program that has a history at the university for over 10 years. It involves peer educators in outreach efforts targeting students, and is one of the key partners in teaching bystander intervention. OHP provides materials regarding on and off-campus resources to participants of their programs. In addition to the efforts aimed at first-year students listed above, OHP certified health educators also present the following annual programs:

- 1) RAINN Day - an annual day of action to raise awareness and educate students about sexual violence on college campuses. It is a grassroots program designed to empower college students to educate their peers about risk reduction and recovery resources on their campus.
- 2) Aggies Against Violence Week – This is an annual event and was held remotely in 2021 due to COVID-19 (Spring semester). In 2021, a collaborative theatrical performance was conducted virtually that raised awareness on sexual assault, harassment, stalking and other acts of violence. The event was co-sponsored with OHP, NMSU Police, and the Theater Department.
- 3) Stand Up Speak Out- bystander intervention training is provided approximately 10 times annually to student groups, programs, residential life, and includes student leaders.
- 4) Safe Spring Break-This is an annual event and includes topics such as: sexual assault/awareness, violence prevention, and sexual/personal safety. This was a remote event held in 2021 due to COVID-19.
- 5) Consent Program- Is a social media and condom distribution event that provided information on what consent is and sexual safety. This program was conducted monthly in all residence halls and as requested by student organizations and groups.

IT'S ON US

The Office of Institutional Equity rolled out the It's On Us campaign to combat sexual violence on the university during the 2016-17 school year. The Office of Institutional Equity collaborates with the Associated Students of New Mexico State University (ASNMSU), the elected student body government, to continue this programming. This is part of a national effort the university is proud to take part in. This program aims to reduce sexual assault by recognizing that non-consensual sex is sexual assault, identifying situations where sexual assault may occur, intervening in situations where consent has not or cannot be given, and creating an environment where sexual assault is not tolerated. Invitations to participate and help with education and activities have been extended to and accepted by the Greek Organizations leadership and the Athletic Advisory leadership. For more information on the national side, visit <http://www.itsonus.org/>. For local events, activities, and opportunities, contact the Office of Institutional Equity at (575) 646-3635.

MONTHLY SAFETY TIPS

Once each month, the university publishes a safety tip in the Wednesday edition of Hotline (an e-mail newsletter). These are designed by representatives of the Marketing & Communications Office, the Fire Department, the Police Department, and Environment Health, Safety, & Risk Management. They cover a wide range of topics, and are the “feature” story each time they run. To subscribe, go to: <https://news.nmsu.edu/Hotline/index.html> To view previous editions of Hotline, go to: <https://news.nmsu.edu/Hotline/archives.html>

FALL SAFETY EVENTS

Because there are so many new students and employees on campus, the Emergency Preparedness Committee schedules a variety of safety activities and programs each Fall semester and groups them under the heading of Fall Safety Events. These include fire drills in residential and academic buildings, safety training programs for laboratories, and hazardous materials courses. To view the current schedule of events, go to <https://safety.nmsu.edu>.

FACILITIES STAFF AND KEY CONTROL PROGRAMS

Employees of Facilities and Services are responsible for a variety of services performed on and around the Las Cruces campus, including facility cleaning, maintenance, and access control. Upon employment, these employees submit to a background check, receive a uniform distinguishing them as Facilities and Service employees, and are issued keys granting limited access to the exterior door, equipment rooms, and custodial closets. Custodians may access master keys through a lockbox sign-in and sign-out process. An employee entering a requester-controlled area obtains access through the work requestor, with both parties verifying security upon completion. When work needs to be performed in a residence, it requires key check-out and check-in from the appropriate office.

All new keys for university buildings outside of Housing are issued directly through the Access Control shop to insure key records are controlled by a central location. Keys authorized by the responsible department head or other authorized person are only issued to a valid NMSU student or staff member. Use and security of keys are the responsibility of the recipient. Upon severing ties with the university, keys must return to Facilities and Services. Distribution of master keys require the approval of the Facilities and Services Associate Vice President prior to release.

Keys for use by residents in residential facilities are controlled by and issued through Housing and Residential Life. Residents are responsible for keeping their individual keys secure at all times, and for reporting loss or theft of the key immediately. In the event a resident locks their keys inside their room, they may seek assistance from Housing staff.

RESIDENCE HALL SAFETY AND SECURITY PROGRAMS

Residence Life On-Call System

Housing and Residential Life have a comprehensive on-call duty rotation at both the student staff member (Resident Assistant) and professional staff member (Resident Director) level. These staff are “on-call” to respond to personal crisis, major facilities issues, or medical emergencies. After business hours (5pm-8am the following morning), a student staff member is on duty for each residential facility via a university-owned cellular phone. In Garcia Hall, these staff members are also supported by an Operations Center that is open 24/7.

The professional Resident Director on duty is responsible for all housing complexes and available 24/7, not just during the after-hours time period. This professional staff member is supported by a member of the Housing Leadership Team (Director, Associate Directors, or Assistant Directors) who is available 24/7 to consult with the professional staff member that is available on campus. Professional staff members are on-call every day of the year, even when the university is closed and/or on recognized holidays.

As a part of the Resident Assistant duty protocol, staff complete a nightly inspection of all exterior doors to each building to insure that they are securing and functioning properly, and then Housing has administrative staff do a weekly double check of these doors to insure all exterior gates and doors are latching and closing appropriately.

In addition to exterior door inspections, each evening Housing staff do a visual walk through of all housing areas. Any safety or security concerns (i.e., exterior lights that are not functioning) are documented on duty rounds for attention or repair and work orders are submitted. This includes frequent rounds each month at Student Family Housing for reporting street lights not working.

Public Safety Aides (PSAs) in Housing

In collaboration with the university Police Department, student Public Safety Aides (trained security officers) patrol housing areas, Corbett Center Student Union (CCSU), and adjacent parking lots daily (especially during evening hours). Housing and Residential Life and CCSU initiated this safety program in late 2015, and are paying for it to reduce the number of issues, including false fire alarm pulls, which were happening late at night and in the early parts of the morning. This has helped to significantly reduce problems, and has helped assist students who had health emergencies during this time period. Overall, the program has been a terrific initiative that benefits student health, safety, and security.

Housing Health & Safety Checks

Housing staff conduct health and safety checks at all facilities in the Housing inventory five times each year: late September (pre-Homecoming); November; winter Break (December); February; and April. While this is an ideal time to connect with residents, assist with work order issues and check on the condition of the space, Housing staff also specifically look at areas that relate to safety:

- check and insure all window locks are in place and functioning;
- check and insure all exterior door locks to space are functioning; and
- check and insure all smoke detectors are in place and operating correctly.

Since September 2016, Housing staff has used these checks as in-person meetings with each resident in the hall or apartment. Staff also provide information on how to sign up for the emergency notification system, and will continue to do that each Fall to help get as many students, especially first year students, to enter additional contact information into the system.

Additional Housing Safety and Security Measures

All exterior gates and doors contain signage about the seriousness of not propping doors, and that community safety is something where all residents/community members bear responsibility. Housing and Residential Life also conducts a monthly check of all exterior gates and doors to ensure this educational signs is in place.

Additionally, Housing and Residential Life staff at each of the Operations Centers complete daily checks of all spare key cabinets, and twice per week a complete inventory of all key cabinets is conducted to identify and address any spare keys that have been checked out more than 24 hours and get those returned by residents. Housing and Residential Life also complies with the university Fire Chief Compliance Statement and schedule for testing and inspection of Fire Alarm and Fire Suppression equipment across the university system. This testing currently includes biannual testing of fire alarm systems in large residential buildings. This is supplemented with practice fire drills each Fall in all residential areas.

BYSTANDER INTERVENTION EDUCATION & TRAINING

The university encourages students and employees to be responsible for their own safety and security, as well as the safety and security of others. One way they may be able to help others is through what is called “bystander intervention”. (See also, “It’s On Us” above.) The following are standard guidelines taught in a variety of programs across campus (from <https://ohp.nmsu.edu/>):

Recognize a potentially harmful situation. The following are indicators of possible abuse:

- Body Language: Is the potential victim leaning away, pushing the other party away, or appears uncomfortable?
- Raised Voices: Do you hear yelling, screaming, banging, or other alarming sounds?
- Intoxication: Is the potential victim stumbling, swaying, unable to communicate, being forced to drink, or otherwise unable to consent to what is happening?

If you believe someone might be in danger of a possible sexual assault, you can us the “3 D’s” to help:

DIRECT: Directly intervene by saying or doing something. Examples:

“Are you okay?”

“Can I help you?”

“That’s not okay!”

“Stop doing that!”

Help the potential victim get away from the situation.

Don’t let the potential victim be taken away by the potential criminal.

DELEGATE: If you don’t feel safe or comfortable directly intervening, “delegate” it to someone else. Examples:

Police (call 911)

Bartender

Bouncer

Party Host

Friends (whether a group or an individual)

Other Bystanders

DISTRACT: Cause a distraction to defuse the situation or allow the two parties to be separated. Examples:

“Do you need to go to the bathroom?”

“You left _____ in the other room.”

“Your car is getting towed.”

Spill a drink.

Honk a car horn.

Make a scene.

Pretend like you know the potential victim and talk with them.

COUNSELING SERVICES

The university offers counseling services free of charge to students at the university Aggie Health and Wellness Center. The Center staff is comprised of licensed counselors, psychologists and professionals that can assist students with a wide range of problems. Students interested should call the university Aggie Health and Wellness Center at (575) 646-1512. When a victim of sexual assault, harassment, dating violence or domestic violence come to the university Aggie Health and Wellness Center, the student receives multi-disciplinary care by the integrated medical and counseling providers. In addition, educational materials are provided after the visit. The materials include contact information to both campus and community resources. On campus resources include: Office of the Dean of Students, Office of Institutional Equity/EEO Director, Housing & Residential Life; Pete’s Pick Up’, NMSU Student Judicial Services, NMSU Police, and Office of Health Promotion. Community resources include: La Casa Domestic Violence Shelter, La Piñon Rape Crisis Center, Las Cruces Police Department, Memorial Medical Center and the Doña Ana County Sheriff’s Office’s Victim Assistance Unit. The victim is given phone numbers and addresses of these services and offered assistance with reaching these serves.

OTHER SAFETY AND SECURITY PROGRAMS AND EFFORTS

Facilities and Services also works to help maintain safety of the campus by, among other efforts, replacing burned out lights, trimming vegetation that blocks lights, and conducting annual tours of the campus to develop a prioritized list of projects for improvements. The employees who work for Facilities and Services also serve as additional observers and reporters of problems around the campus, as do the facilities workers at the DACC Central Campus.

The Associated Students of NMSU also operates a ride service called Pete's Pickup on Monday – Thursday and Saturday evenings. A simple call for a ride will result in a student employee being dispatched in a golf cart to give you a ride anywhere on the campus, including to/from vehicles, residence halls, the libraries, etc. Find out more about Pete's Pickup and other transportation options funded by ASNMSU at <https://asnmsu.nmsu.edu/student-services/>.

TIPS TO PREVENT CRIME

The following are some things each person can do to reduce chances of becoming a victim of a crime:

- Mark or engrave all valuables (including textbooks), and keep a record of these in a safe place. Include their make, model, and serial numbers whenever possible. A good way to do this is by taking photographs of the items and the serial numbers and storing them both on your cell phone and in the cloud so they can be easily retrieved if needed.
- If there are problems with your room that may affect security (such as doors that don't lock well or windows that open easily), let your RA or property manager know immediately.
- Always secure bikes to a bike rack using a high-quality lock.
- Lock the doors and windows to your room and your vehicle every time you leave. Do not leave valuables where they can be easily seen by someone passing by, even if it is just for a few minutes.
- Always be aware of your surroundings and of any strangers near you. If you are going to be involved in activities where you are unable to focus on your environment and what is going on around you (e.g., when playing games on a smart phone), do so with friends so you can help each other watch for dangerous situations. If someone is acting suspiciously near you, move away toward large groups and well-lit areas. If the person follows you and/or continues to act in a suspicious manner, consider challenging them or call 911 for assistance.
- Don't leave valuables unattended in unlocked lockers, study areas, or classrooms.
- Alcohol and drug use can reduce your ability to recognize a dangerous situation and your ability to defend yourself. If you are going to drink alcohol, do it legally, responsibly, in a safe place, and with people you can trust.

In addition to the tips above, additional information can be found on the university Police Department website (www.nmsupolice.com), or by contacting the Crime Prevention Office at 646-3311.

DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

(See also the Policies and Procedures in Section 2, above)

Use of alcohol is a concern with many high school and college students. While the average age of students attending the NMSU Las Cruces campus is approximately 26 years old, there are still a large percentage of students and visitors below the age of 21 (the minimum age for consumption of alcohol in New Mexico). Alcohol is strictly prohibited for those below 21, and abuse of alcohol by anyone (to include use in unauthorized areas) is prohibited. The university Police Department does arrest and/or cite for these offenses. Anyone selling or giving alcohol to a minor is guilty of a 4th degree felony in New Mexico. The Student Judicial Affairs Office and Housing and Residential Life will also charge students who violate university policies and state laws, with penalties ranging from mandatory education programs, up to and including expulsion from the university. Possession of alcohol is prohibited in the housing areas identified as First Year Residence Halls.

In addition to alcohol, illegal drug abuse (to include prescription drug abuse) is a concern on college campuses. Possession, sale, or use of any prohibited substance may result in criminal charges and administrative sanctions, up to and including expulsion from the university. Violations of federal and state controlled substance laws are investigated by the university Police Department and referred for prosecution. (NOTE: While medical marijuana is allowed through a prescription in the State of New Mexico, state law specifically prohibits possession or use at any schools, colleges, or workplaces. Medicinal marijuana users must have a qualifying condition and be licensed by the NM Department of Health. Medical marijuana cards from other states are not recognized in New Mexico.)

For those wanting to know more about the effects of alcohol and drugs, as well as issues like sexual assault, the OHP peer educator program is available to offer assistance. Counseling services are also available for those with substance abuse problems and include a licensed substance abuse counselor on staff. Information regarding drug and alcohol abuse available through a variety of locations on campus. Also, there are several academic courses related to drugs and alcohol offered each semester for those wanting to gain in-depth knowledge while also earning college credits. These courses can also be a great start for those wanting to pursue careers helping others with substance abuse problems.

OTHER SERVICES AVAILABLE

Students seeking counseling services off campus may obtain a list of the services available and their phone numbers by calling the university Police Department, the Office of Institutional Equity, the Dean of Students or the Aggie Health and Wellness Center. These Departments can put students in touch with the La Piñon Rape Crisis Center, La Casa Shelter, Doña Ana Victims' Assistance, and numerous other public and private counseling services. Many of these are free of charge or are offered on a sliding fee scale. A list may also be obtained from the Office of Institutional Equity.

For education about sexual assault and misconduct, policy development, and victims' assistance issues, the university has given responsibilities to several departments and offices. Students with concerns or needing specific information are encouraged to contact the Dean of Students, the Office of Institutional Equity, or the university Police Department. NMSU works specifically toward the goal of reducing the incidence of sexual crimes and providing better services for those victimized. Special assistance for victims in changing academic and living arrangements is available through the Dean of Students.

Additional services exist throughout the community to deal with special problems. Students may contact the university Police Department with their needs for referral to the appropriate people or organizations.

SECTION 4 – CRIME STATISTICS

DRUG FREE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES

The NMSU Board of Regents, administration, and Police Department strongly discourage any conduct that is illegal or that violates the rights of another individual. This specifically includes laws concerning possession, use, and sale of alcohol and illegal drugs. The university may take both administrative (student judicial and/or personnel) and criminal action against individuals and organizations found to be violating federal, state or university laws or policies regarding alcohol or drugs. Various drug or alcohol abuse education programs are sponsored by the university Police Department, the Vice President for Student Affairs Office, the WAVE program, and the Human Resources Office. The university Police Department makes every effort to assist victims of crimes through the Police Department's Victim Services advocates and to prosecute those responsible. Detailed information related to alcohol and drugs, including compliance with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, can be found at the following sites:

MONITORING OF CRIMINAL ACTIVITY AT STUDENT ORGANIZATION LOCATIONS

The university Police Department does not actively monitor criminal activity taking place at off-campus student organization facilities. However, it does obtain crime statistics for this report annually from the local police agencies having jurisdiction over property owned or controlled by chartered student organizations. Crimes identified in this process will be included in the "noncampus property" column below. (See also, ARP 16.12.)

ABOUT THE CRIME STATISTICS

The university Police Department is responsible for the investigation of crimes that take place on university owned or controlled property, which includes the filing of appropriate police reports and filing of annual reports and statistics. However, other agencies have concurrent jurisdiction in many cases. The university Police Department takes efforts to encourage any other agency taking a report to notify the university so the incident can be reflected in the annual crime reports. While there has been a history of excellent cooperation and data sharing among local law enforcement agencies in Doña Ana County, the cooperation from federal agencies in sharing this type of data is not as strong, due in large part to secrecy requirements by those agencies. However, as these agencies generally do not investigate crimes reported herein, this data is believed to be complete.

The university Police will only consider removing a report as “unfounded” if the person who filed the report makes a written statement acknowledging that the initial report was fictitious, or if a court convicts the person for filing a false report. In all other circumstances, a report will still be included on crime statistics regardless of the result of hearings or trials.

Statistics on the following crimes and offenses are reported in the annual security report. The definitions are from the indicated sources, and may differ from the actual charges filed under state law due to differences between the federal definitions and state statutes. Commonly used state statutes relating to some of these areas are contained later in this publication.

From the NIBRS 2021 User Manual:

MURDER AND NONNEGLIGENT MANSLAUGHTER: The willful (nonnegligent) killing of one human being by another.

NEGLIGENT MANSLAUGHTER: The killing of another person through gross negligence.

RAPE (except Statutory Rape): the carnal knowledge of a person, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is unable to give consent because of his/her age or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity.

ROBBERY: The taking of anything of value from the control, custody, or care of another person by force or threat of force and/or by putting the victim in fear of immediate harm.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: An unlawful attack by one person upon another wherein the offender uses a dangerous weapon or displays it in a threatening manner or the victim suffers obvious severe or aggravated bodily injury, or where there was a risk for serious injury/intent to seriously injure.

BURGLARY: The unlawful entry into a building or some other structure to commit a felony or a theft.

MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT: The theft of a motor vehicle.

ARSON: To unlawfully and intentionally damage or attempt to damage any real or personal property of another person or entity by fire or incendiary device.

DRUG/NARCOTIC VIOLATIONS: The violation of laws prohibiting the production, distribution, and/or use of certain controlled substances and the equipment or devices utilized in their preparation and/or use. The unlawful cultivation, manufacture, distribution, sale, purchase, use, possession, transportation, or importation of any controlled substance.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS: The violation of laws or ordinances prohibiting the manufacture, sale, purchase, transportation, possession, or use of alcoholic beverages.

WEAPONS-CARRYING, POSSESSING, ETC. LAW VIOLATIONS: The violation of laws or ordinances prohibiting the manufacture, sale, purchase, transportation, possession, concealment, or use of firearms, cutting instruments, explosives, incendiary devices, or other deadly weapons.

FONDLING: The touching of the private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is unable to give consent because of his/her age or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity.

INCEST: Nonforcible sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law.

STATUTORY RAPE: Non-Forcible sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent. (NOTE: If force is used in these cases, it is counted as rape.)

A hate crime is “a criminal offense that manifests evidence that the victim was intentionally selected because of the perpetrator’s bias against the victim.” For purposes of this report, a bias is “a preformed negative opinion or attitude based on a person’s:

- Race;
- Religion;
- Gender;
- Gender identity;
- Sexual orientation;
- Ethnicity;
- National origin; or
- Disability

Hate crimes are counted in this report if they involve any of the following offenses:

- Murder and non-negligent manslaughter;
- Manslaughter by negligence;
- Rape;
- Fondling;
- Incest;
- Statutory Rape;
- Robbery;
- Aggravated assault;
- Simple assault;
- Burglary;
- Motor vehicle theft;
- Arson;
- Larceny/theft;
- Intimidation; or

- Destruction/Damage/Vandalism of Property.

The definitions of the additional terms are below:

Larceny-Theft: The unlawful taking, carrying, leading, or riding away of property from the possession or constructive possession of another.

Simple Assault: An unlawful physical attack by one person upon another where neither the offender displays a weapon, nor the victim suffers obvious severe or aggravated bodily injury involving apparent broken bones, loss of teeth, possible internal injury, severe laceration or loss of consciousness.

Intimidation: To unlawfully place another person in reasonable fear of bodily harm through the use of threatening words and/or other conduct, but without displaying a weapon or subjecting the victim to actual physical attack.

Destruction/Damage/Vandalism of Property: To willfully or maliciously destroy, damage, deface, or otherwise injure real or personal property without the consent of the owner or the person having custody or control of it.

DEFINITIONS OF CLERY ACT LOCATIONS (General)

“On-Campus” is defined as any building or property owned or controlled by an institution within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area and used by the institution in direct support of, or in a manner related to, the institution’s educational purposes, including residence halls. This also includes any building or property that is within or reasonably contiguous to the geographic area that is owned by the institution but controlled by another person, is frequently used by students, and supports institutional purposes (such as a food or other retail vendor).

“Dorms/Residential Facilities” for students on campus is a subset of the “On-Campus” category.

 Crimes reported in the Residential Facilities column are also included in the On-Campus Category.

“Non-Campus” is defined as any building or property owned or controlled by an institution that is used in direct support of, or in relation to, the institution’s educational purposes, is frequently used by students, and is not within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution. This also includes any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by the institution. The Santa Fe facility is considered in this category.

“Public Property” is defined as all public property, including thoroughfares, streets, sidewalks, and parking facilities, that is within the campus, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

CLERY GEOGRAPHY

As noted at the beginning, the university is one of the largest land grant universities in the nation. This means that there is a lot of property controlled by the university. This report does not cover all campuses, nor all property controlled by the Board of Regents. Instead, it only contains crimes reported at the following locations. (NOTE: Diagrams showing these areas is contained in the Appendix. However, due to the vast size of many of these areas, it may be difficult to identify these areas from the diagrams. If you have any questions about where these areas are located, please contact the NMSU Police Department.)

Las Cruces Campus: The land located south of University Avenue, between Interstate 10 and Interstate 25, forming a triangle between the three (as the Interstates join on the southern boundary), excluding the Las Cruces Convention Center. Also included is the land owned by NMSU that extends west from Interstate 25 and south of University Avenue/Dripping Springs Road, reaching up the western face of “A” Mountain, and extending south for a little over a mile just past the intersection of Tellbrook Road and Sonoma Ranch Boulevard.

Doña Ana Community College – Espina Campus: Originally called the DACC “central campus”, this is located on the Las Cruces Campus, on the southwest side of the intersection of Gregg Street (which forms the north border) and Espina Street (forming the east border). It is bordered on the south by Wells Street, and on the west by Sam Steel Way.

Fabian Garcia Horticulture Center: This land is located immediately west of Interstate 10, straddling University Avenue. Most of this area is not fenced, but only crimes taking place within the university property are included in this report.

Horse Farm: Located on Union Avenue, this land consists of completely fenced pastures and paddocks, as well as some equipment barns, a horse barn, and a landscaped approach immediately adjacent to the street. Only crimes located south of Union Avenue and within the described area are included in this report.

Leyendecker Research Facility: This research property is located on the east side of the Rio Grande River, south of the Town of Mesilla.

Chihuahuan Desert Rangeland Research Center (CDRRC): This is a large, working research ranch located north of Las Cruces, and partially straddling the Doña Ana Mountains on the southern side, and extending to the Rio Grande River on the west and Jornada Experimental Station operated by the USDA on the east. Interstate 25, a rest area, and a US Border Patrol Checkpoint are located in a corridor running north/south through the CDRRC, but are not part of the NMSU land nor are they included in this report.

* Pursuant to the 34 CFR 668.46(a) Definitions, and the Federal Register, Volume 79, No. 202, page 62757, Column 3, NMSU includes all cases of 'dating violence' in the statistics for 'domestic violence', as New Mexico State Statutes already include dating violence in domestic violence violations and prosecutions. As a result, there are no cases of 'dating violence' listed individually.

 The NMSU controlled residential facilities are all located on campus, so the incidents taking place therein are also included in the "On-Campus Property" column.

 The fondling case took place at an off-campus registered student organization facility.

DAILY CRIME LOG/BLOTTER AND INCIDENT REPORTS

The NMSU Police Department has always strived for transparency related to its activities and records. There are several ways in which members of the public can find out what is happening related to crime. The Police Department maintains a Daily Crime Log that is a listing of all police reports filed, including both alleged and confirmed criminal incidents of all types. The Daily Crime Log entries are made within 2 business days of being received by the Police Department, and they are listed in chronological order. The Daily Crime Log includes the Case Number, the Date and Time the report was filed, the Date and Time the crime occurred, the Location, the Nature of the crime, and the Status/Disposition of the report (e.g., open, closed, closed by arrest). If a report of a crime is received from another source (i.e., a campus security authority or another law enforcement agency), the NMSU Police Department will generate a police report in order to track the crime, and it will be entered into the Daily Crime Log.

Pastoral or Professional Counselors are exempt from being required to report crimes to the university Police Department while they are acting in such capacity, unless otherwise required by state law (e.g., statutorily-required reporting for child abuse). However, these individuals are asked to provide confidential reports to the NMSU Police Department that do not identify the victim so that the crime may be tracked and protective measures put in place when feasible.

A hard copy of the Daily Crime Log is available for inspection at the NMSU Police Department Records and Evidence Office during regular business hours (Monday - Friday, 8:00 am - 5:00 pm, excluding holidays or posted closures). In addition, historical Daily Crime Logs are available online at <https://www.nmsupolice.com/crime-statistics/>. NOTE: The NMSU Police Department may temporarily withhold information from the crime log if there is clear and convincing evidence that the release would jeopardize an ongoing investigation, jeopardize the safety of an individual, cause a suspect to flee or evade detection, or result in the destruction of evidence. In those cases, a notation may be made in the appropriate fields when the entry is initially made, and then updated when the risk has been reduced or eliminated.

In addition to the Daily Crime Log, individual police reports are available for inspection and/or purchase pursuant to the requirements of the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act. Reports that are inspected should not be considered official police reports for purposes of insurance or prosecution. Anyone needing stamped, official police reports must purchase them from the Records and Evidence Office. The NMSU Police Department also submits crime statistics to the FBI Uniform Crime Reports.

VICTIM CONFIDENTIALITY

Victim information is not contained in the Daily Crime Log (there is no column for it, either), and the locations in the Daily Crime Log are limited to facility names to help ensure an individual victim cannot be easily identified (e.g., the address does not include individual apartment or dorm residence numbers). There is never any victim information contained in the Annual Security Report.

Within individual police reports, victim information is recorded. Under the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act, police reports are considered public records subject to inspection and copying. However, the university Police Department will withhold a victim's personally identifying information from the public for Clery Act crimes, as well as other crimes allowed under state statute. These include the following crimes:

- Murder
- Voluntary Manslaughter
- Involuntary Manslaughter
- Homicide by Vehicle
- Kidnapping
- Criminal Sexual Penetration
- Criminal Sexual Contact of a Minor

- Abandonment or Abuse of a Child
- Arson Resulting in Bodily Injury
- Aggravated Arson
- Aggravated Assault
- Aggravated Battery
- Great Bodily Injury by Vehicle
- Dangerous Use of Explosives
- Negligent Use of a Deadly Weapon

If a question arises as to whether victim information should be disclosed pursuant to an Inspection of Public Records request, the determination of whether or not to release it will be made by the Chief of Police in consultation with the Office of the General Counsel. (NOTE: Victim information may be released to non-public entities, to include other law enforcement agencies, victim services, prosecutors, the courts, and university officials. In such cases, if the Chief of Police (or designee) indicates the information is confidential, the receiving party is asked to not provide it to others without specific authorization.)

When assisting a victim with accommodations or protective measures, the university does not share personally identifying information with anyone who does not have a “need to know”. Those who are identified as having a need to know are those who are responsible for instituting the accommodations or measures, such as changing a class schedule or room assignment. The Victim Services personnel from the Police Department who assist in these accommodations keep the victim informed at all stages, and obtain affirmative consent from the victim before taking action to implement accommodations or protective measures. The Police Department believes it is crucial to allow the victim to take part in deciding what happens to avoid causing further trauma.

TRACKING CRIME INCIDENTS AND REPORTS

People interested in the activities of the NMSU Police Department can find regular news reports on local radio and television stations, as well as articles in the local newspapers. The Round Up student newspaper also sometimes publishes stories on recent police reports taken by the NMSU Police Department. The NMSU Police Department experiences a high degree of cooperation from the local news media and issues press releases on cases believed to be of public interest. As noted above, the crime log and individual police reports may be viewed at the NMSU Police Department Records Office. The Police Department also submits its crime statistics to the U.S. Department of Justice’s Uniform Crime Reports.

OFF-CAMPUS CRIME

Crime occurring off campus involving students or chartered NMSU organizations is reported to and handled by a variety of agencies, including the Las Cruces Police Department, the Doña Ana County Sheriff's Department, or other local, state, or federal law enforcement agencies having jurisdiction. While the NMSU Police Department assists other agencies when asked pursuant to mutual aid agreements, the reporting and tracking of crime is done by the agency of primary jurisdiction. The university does not routinely monitor nor track incidents that are on private property nor public property that isn't part of the university's Clery geography. Anyone wanting specific information on off-campus crime should contact the appropriate agency(s). See the Phone Number Reference Guide in Section 5 of this report for contact information.

WE NEED YOUR HELP – REPORT CRIME!

Please help us in deterring crime on our campus by promptly calling the Police Department at 575-646-3311 or 911 (in case of emergencies) to report suspicious activity, safety problems, or crimes. The university Police Department does not accept anonymous reports, and must disclose certain information to prosecutors and defense counsel (in accordance with state law). However, the university Police Department will take steps in sensitive cases to keep personal information confidential to the extent possible. This includes cases of sexual assault, as well as cases where there is a concern of possible retaliation. The university Police Department also encourages 3rd party reports from pastoral and professional counselors and medical providers. Third party reports are not accepted from other sources due to the impossibility of ensuring crimes are accurately classified and are not duplicated. Changes have been made to the 3rd party vendor Ethics Point (<https://secure.ethicspoint.com/>) to specifically discourage people from trying to use that system for Clery-reportable offenses. Ethics Point is intended for reporting violations of policy or laws that are not Clery-reportable. Examples of such non-Clery laws are fraud, embezzlement, and misuse of university property.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR POLICY MONITORING AND ENFORCEMENT

On behalf of NMSU, the Police Department monitors for compliance with the Clery Act and related university policies throughout the NMSU System. Training and assistance will be provided or facilitated to address infractions and inconsistencies. Lack of cooperation or flagrant violations will be reported to the relevant campus president, for internal investigation in conjunction with HRS-ELR, and may subject the responsible official to disciplinary corrective action.

LEGAL DEFINITIONS

Rape is defined by the FBI as the penetration (no matter how slight) of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of a victim. It includes situations where the victim is incapable of giving consent due to incapacitation by means of disability or alcohol or other drugs. In New Mexico, the term "rape" is not used in statute. Instead, the term is "criminal sexual penetration". New Mexico also does not specifically define consent during a sexual assault, but clearly indicates that any amount of force or coercion means it was not consensual, and that a person who is incapacitated by alcohol or drugs or who is too young cannot give consent. Many rapes are committed by someone the victim knows, such as a date or friend. Under New Mexico State Law, criminal sexual penetration is defined as follows:

30-9-11. Criminal sexual penetration.

- A. Criminal sexual penetration is the unlawful and intentional causing of a person to engage in sexual intercourse, cunnilingus, fellatio or anal intercourse or the causing of penetration, to any extent and with any object, of the genital or anal openings of another, whether or not there is any emission.
- B. Criminal sexual penetration does not include medically indicated procedures.
- C. Aggravated criminal sexual penetration consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated on a child under thirteen years of age with an intent to kill or with a depraved mind regardless of human life. Whoever commits aggravated criminal sexual penetration is guilty of a first degree felony for aggravated criminal sexual penetration.
- D. Criminal sexual penetration in the first degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated:
 - (1) on a child under thirteen years of age; or
 - (2) by the use of force or coercion that results in great bodily harm or great mental anguish to the victim.

Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the first degree is guilty of a first degree felony.

- E. Criminal sexual penetration in the second degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated:
 - (1) by the use of force or coercion on a child thirteen to eighteen years of age;
 - (2) on an inmate confined in a correctional facility or jail when the perpetrator is in a position of authority over the inmate;
 - (3) by the use of force or coercion that results in personal injury to the victim;
 - (4) by the use of force or coercion when the perpetrator is aided or abetted by one or more persons;
 - (5) in the commission of any other felony; or
 - (6) when the perpetrator is armed with a deadly weapon.

Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the second degree is guilty of a second degree felony. Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the second degree when the victim is a child who is thirteen to eighteen years of age is guilty of a second degree felony for a sexual offense against a child and, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 31-18-15 NMSA 1978, shall be sentenced to a minimum term of imprisonment of three years, which shall not be suspended or deferred. The imposition of a minimum, mandatory term of imprisonment pursuant to the provisions of this subsection shall not be interpreted to preclude the imposition of sentencing enhancements pursuant to the provisions of the Criminal Sentencing Act [31-18-12 NMSA 1978].

- F. Criminal sexual penetration in the third degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration perpetrated through the use of force or coercion not otherwise specified in this section. Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the third degree is guilty of a third degree felony.
- G. Criminal sexual penetration in the fourth degree consists of all criminal sexual penetration:

- (1) not defined in Subsections D through F of this section perpetrated on a child thirteen to sixteen years of age when the perpetrator is at least eighteen years of age and is at least four years older than the child and not the spouse of that child; or
 - (2) perpetrated on a child thirteen to eighteen years of age when the perpetrator, who is a licensed school employee, an unlicensed school employee, a school contract employee, a school health service provider or a school volunteer, and who is at least eighteen years of age and is at least four years older than the child and not the spouse of that child, learns while performing services in or for a school that the child is a student in a school.
- Whoever commits criminal sexual penetration in the fourth degree is guilty of a fourth degree felony.

Other Sexual Offenses

Besides Criminal sexual penetration, other sexual offenses include the following:

30-9-12. Criminal sexual contact.

- A. Criminal sexual contact is the unlawful and intentional touching of or application of force, without consent, to the unclothed intimate parts of another who has reached his eighteenth birthday, or intentionally causing another who has reached his eighteenth birthday to touch one's intimate parts.
- B. Criminal sexual contact does not include touching by a psychotherapist on his patient that is:
 - (1) inadvertent;
 - (2) casual social contact not intended to be sexual in nature; or
 - (3) generally recognized by mental health professionals as being a legitimate element of psychotherapy.
- C. Criminal sexual contact in the fourth degree consists of all criminal sexual contact perpetrated:
 - (1) by the use of force or coercion that results in personal injury to the victim;
 - (2) by the use of force or coercion when the perpetrator is aided or abetted by one or more persons; or
 - (3) when the perpetrator is armed with a deadly weapon.

Whoever commits criminal sexual contact in the fourth degree is guilty of a fourth degree felony.

- D. Criminal sexual contact is a misdemeanor when perpetrated with the use of force or coercion.
- E. For the purposes of this section, "intimate parts" means the primary genital area, groin, buttocks, anus or breast.

30-9-13. Criminal sexual contact of a minor.

- A. Criminal sexual contact of a minor is the unlawful and intentional touching of or applying force to the intimate parts of a minor or the unlawful and intentional causing of a minor to touch one's intimate parts. For the purposes of this section, "intimate parts" means the primary genital area, groin, buttocks, anus or breast.
- B. Criminal sexual contact of a minor in the second degree consists of all criminal sexual contact of the unclothed intimate parts of a minor perpetrated:
 - (1) on a child under thirteen years of age; or
 - (2) on a child thirteen to eighteen years of age when:
 - (a) the perpetrator is in a position of authority over the child and uses that authority to coerce the child to submit;

- (b) the perpetrator uses force or coercion that results in personal injury to the child;
- (c) the perpetrator uses force or coercion and is aided or abetted by one or more persons;
- or
- (d) the perpetrator is armed with a deadly weapon.

Whoever commits criminal sexual contact of a minor in the second degree is guilty of a second degree felony for a sexual offense against a child and, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 31-18-15 NMSA 1978, shall be sentenced to a minimum term of imprisonment of three years, which shall not be suspended or deferred. The imposition of a minimum, mandatory term of imprisonment pursuant to the provisions of this subsection shall not be interpreted to preclude the imposition of sentencing enhancements pursuant to the provisions of Sections 31-18-17, 31-18-25 and 31-18-26 NMSA 1978.

C. Criminal sexual contact of a minor in the third degree consists of all criminal sexual contact of a minor perpetrated:

- (1) on a child under thirteen years of age; or
- (2) on a child thirteen to eighteen years of age when:
 - (a) the perpetrator is in a position of authority over the child and uses this authority to coerce the child to submit;
 - (b) the perpetrator uses force or coercion which results in personal injury to the child;
 - (c) the perpetrator uses force or coercion and is aided or abetted by one or more persons;
 - or
 - (d) the perpetrator is armed with a deadly weapon.

Whoever commits criminal sexual contact of a minor in the third degree is guilty of a third degree felony for a sexual offense against a child.

D. Criminal sexual contact of a minor in the fourth degree consists of all criminal sexual contact:

- (1) not defined in Subsection C of this section, of a child thirteen to eighteen years of age perpetrated with force or coercion; or
- (2) of a minor perpetrated on a child thirteen to eighteen years of age when the perpetrator, who is a licensed school employee, an unlicensed school employee, a school contract employee, a school health service provider or a school volunteer, and who is at least eighteen years of age and is at least four years older than the child and not the spouse of that child, learns while performing services in or for a school that the child is a student in a school.

Whoever commits criminal sexual contact in the fourth degree is guilty of a fourth degree felony.

30-9-14. Indecent exposure.

- A. Indecent exposure consists of a person knowingly and intentionally exposing his primary genital area to public view.
- B. As used in this section, "primary genital area" means the mons pubis, penis, testicles, mons veneris, vulva or vagina.
- C. Whoever commits indecent exposure is guilty of a misdemeanor.
- D. In addition to any punishment provided pursuant to the provisions of this section, the court shall order a person convicted for committing indecent exposure to participate in and complete a program of professional counseling at his own expense.

30-9-14.3. Aggravated indecent exposure.

- A. Aggravated indecent exposure consists of a person knowingly and intentionally exposing his primary genital area to public view in a lewd and lascivious manner, with the intent to threaten or intimidate another person, while committing one or more of the following acts or criminal offenses:
- (1) exposure to a child less than eighteen years of age;
 - (2) assault, as provided in Section 30-3-1 NMSA 1978;
 - (3) aggravated assault, as provided in Section 30-3-2 NMSA 1978;
 - (4) assault with intent to commit a violent felony, as provided in Section 30-3-3 NMSA 1978;
 - (5) battery, as provided in Section 30-3-4 NMSA 1978;
 - (6) aggravated battery, as provided in Section 30-3-5 NMSA 1978;
 - (7) criminal sexual penetration, as provided in Section 30-9-11 NMSA 1978; or
 - (8) abuse of a child, as provided in Section 30-6-1 NMSA 1978.
- B. As used in this section, "primary genital area" means the mons pubis, penis, testicles, mons veneris, vulva or vagina.
- C. Whoever commits aggravated indecent exposure is guilty of a fourth degree felony.
- D. In addition to any punishment provided pursuant to the provisions of this section, the court shall order a person convicted for committing aggravated indecent exposure to participate in and complete a program of professional counseling at his own expense.

30-9-20. Voyeurism prohibited; penalties.

- A. Voyeurism consists of intentionally using the unaided eye to view or intentionally using an instrumentality to view, photograph, videotape, film, webcast or record the intimate areas of another person without the knowledge and consent of that person:
- (1) while the person is in the interior of a bedroom, bathroom, changing room, fitting room, dressing room or tanning booth or the interior of any other area in which the person has a reasonable expectation of privacy; or
 - (2) under circumstances where the person has a reasonable expectation of privacy, whether in a public or private place.
- B. Whoever commits voyeurism is guilty of a misdemeanor, except if the victim is less than eighteen years of age, the offender is guilty of a fourth degree felony.
- C. As used in this section:
- (1) "intimate areas" means the primary genital area, groin, buttocks, anus or breasts or the undergarments that cover those areas; and
 - (2) "instrumentality" means a periscope, telescope, binoculars, camcorder, computer, motion picture camera, digital camera, telephone camera, photographic camera or electronic device of any type.

30-37-2. Offenses; books; pictures.

It is unlawful for a person to knowingly sell, deliver, distribute, display for sale or provide to a minor, or knowingly to possess with intent to sell, deliver, distribute, display for sale or provide to a minor:

- A. any picture, photograph, drawing, sculpture, motion picture film or similar visual representation or image of a person or portion of the human body, or any replica, article or

- device having the appearance of either male or female genitals which depicts nudity, sexual conduct, sexual excitement or sado-masochistic abuse and which is harmful to minors; or
- B. any book, pamphlet, magazine, printed matter however produced or sound recording which contains any matter enumerated in Subsection A of this section or explicit and detailed verbal descriptions or narrative accounts of sexual excitement, sexual conduct or sado-masochistic abuse and which, taken as a whole, is harmful to minors.

30-37-3.2. Child solicitation by electronic communication device.

- A. Child solicitation by electronic communication device consists of a person knowingly and intentionally soliciting a child under sixteen years of age, by means of an electronic communication device, to engage in sexual intercourse, sexual contact or in a sexual or obscene performance, or to engage in any other sexual conduct when the perpetrator is at least four years older than the child.
- B. Whoever commits child solicitation by electronic communication device is guilty of a:
- (1) fourth degree felony if the child is at least thirteen but under sixteen years of age; or
 - (2) third degree felony if the child is under thirteen years of age.
- C. Whoever commits child solicitation by electronic communication device and also appears for, attends or is present at a meeting that the person arranged pursuant to the solicitation is guilty of a:
- (1) third degree felony if the child is at least thirteen but under sixteen years of age; or
 - (2) second degree felony if the child is under thirteen years of age.
- D. In a prosecution for child solicitation by electronic communication device, it is not a defense that the intended victim of the defendant was a peace officer posing as a child under sixteen years of age.
- E. For purposes of determining jurisdiction, child solicitation by electronic communication device is committed in this state if an electronic communication device transmission either originates or is received in this state.
- F. As used in this section, "electronic communication device" means a computer, video recorder, digital camera, fax machine, telephone, cellular telephone, pager, audio equipment or any other device that can produce an electronically generated image, message or signal.

30-37-1. Definitions.

As used in this act:

- A. "minor" means any unmarried person who has not reached his eighteenth birthday;
- B. "nudity" means the showing of the male or female genitals, pubic area or buttocks with less than a full opaque covering, or the depiction of covered male genitals in a discernibly turgid state;
- C. "sexual conduct" means act of masturbation, homosexuality, sodomy, sexual intercourse or physical contact with a person's clothed or unclothed genitals, pubic area, buttocks or, if such person be female, breast;
- D. "sexual excitement" means the condition of human male or female genitals when in a state of sexual stimulation or arousal;
- E. "sado-masochistic abuse" means flagellation or torture by or upon a person clad in undergarments, a mask or bizarre costume, or the condition of being fettered, bound or otherwise physically restrained;

- F. "harmful to minors" means that quality of any description of representation, in whatever form, of nudity, sexual conduct, sexual excitement or sado-masochistic abuse, when it:
 - (1) predominantly appeals to the prurient, shameful or morbid interest of minors; and
 - (2) is patently offensive to prevailing standards in the adult community as a whole with respect to what is suitable material for minors; and
 - (3) is utterly without redeeming social importance for minors; and
- G. "knowingly" means having general knowledge of, or reason to know, or a belief or reasonable ground for belief which warrants further inspection or inquiry or both, of:
 - (1) the character and content of any material described herein, which is reasonably susceptible of examination by the defendant;
 - (2) the age of the minor.

The complete State of New Mexico rape and sexual assault offenses, definitions and penalties can be found in New Mexico State Statutes 30-9-1 through 20. Additionally, New Mexico State Statute 30-6A-1 through 4 provides definitions of the crime of Sexual Exploitation of Children.

Domestic Violence, Dating Violence and Stalking

The New Mexico State Statutes relating to domestic violence, dating violence and stalking are as follows;

30-3-11. Definitions.

As used in the Crimes Against Household Members Act:

- A. "household member" means a spouse, former spouse, parent, present or former stepparent, present or former parent in-law, grandparent, grandparent-in-law, a co-parent of a child or a person with whom a person has had a continuing personal relationship. Cohabitation is not necessary to be deemed a household member for the purposes of the Crimes Against Household Members Act; and
- B. "continuing personal relationship" means a dating or intimate relationship.

30-3-12. Assault against a household member.

- A. Assault against a household member consists of:
 - (1) an attempt to commit a battery against a household member; or
 - (2) any unlawful act, threat or menacing conduct that causes a household member to reasonably believe that he is in danger of receiving an immediate battery.
- B. Whoever commits assault against a household member is guilty of a petty misdemeanor.

30-3-13. Aggravated assault against a household member.

- A. Aggravated assault against a household member consists of:
 - (1) unlawfully assaulting or striking at a household member with a deadly weapon; or
 - (2) willfully and intentionally assaulting a household member with intent to commit any felony.
- B. Whoever commits aggravated assault against a household member is guilty of a fourth degree felony.

30-3-14. Assault against a household member with intent to commit a violent felony.

- A. Assault against a household member with intent to commit a violent felony consists of any person assaulting a household member with intent to kill or commit any murder, mayhem, criminal sexual penetration in the first, second or third degree, robbery, kidnapping, false imprisonment or burglary.
- B. Whoever commits assault against a household member with intent to commit a violent felony is guilty of a third-degree felony.

30-3-15. Battery against a household member.

- A. Battery against a household member consists of the unlawful, intentional touching or application of force to the person of a household member, when done in a rude, insolent or angry manner.
- B. Whoever commits battery against a household member is guilty of a misdemeanor.
- C. Upon conviction pursuant to this section, an offender shall be required to participate in and complete a domestic violence offender treatment or intervention program approved by the children, youth and families department pursuant to rules promulgated by the department that define the criteria for such programs.
- D. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, if a sentence imposed pursuant to this section is suspended or deferred in whole or in part, the period of probation may extend beyond three hundred sixty-four days but may not exceed two years. If an offender violates a condition of probation, the court may impose any sentence that the court could originally have imposed and credit shall not be given for time served by the offender on probation; provided that the total period of incarceration shall not exceed three hundred sixty-four days and the combined period of incarceration and probation shall not exceed two years.

30-3-16. Aggravated battery against a household member.

- A. Aggravated battery against a household member consists of the unlawful touching or application of force to the person of a household member with intent to injure that person or another.
- B. Whoever commits aggravated battery against a household member by inflicting an injury to that person that is not likely to cause death or great bodily harm, but that does cause painful temporary disfigurement or temporary loss or impairment of the functions of any member or organ of the body, is guilty of a misdemeanor.
- C. Whoever commits aggravated battery against a household member by inflicting great bodily harm or doing so with a deadly weapon or doing so in any manner whereby great bodily harm or death can be inflicted is guilty of a third degree felony.
- D. Upon conviction pursuant to Subsection B of this section, an offender shall be required to participate in and complete a domestic violence offender treatment or intervention program approved by the children, youth and families department pursuant to rules promulgated by the department that define the criteria for such programs.
- E. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, if a sentence imposed pursuant to the provisions of Subsection B of this section is suspended or deferred in whole or in part, the period of probation may extend beyond three hundred sixty-four days but may not exceed two years. If an offender violates a condition of probation, the court may impose any sentence that the court could originally have imposed and credit shall not be given for time served by the offender on probation; provided that the total period of incarceration shall not exceed three hundred sixty-four days and the combined period of incarceration and probation shall not exceed two years.

30-3-17. Multiple convictions of battery or aggravated battery.

- A. Whoever commits three offenses of battery against a household member as provided in Section 30-3-15 NMSA 1978 or aggravated battery against a household member as provided in Subsection B of Section 30-3-16 NMSA 1978, or any combination thereof, when the household member is a spouse, a former spouse, a co-parent of a child or a person with whom the offender has had a continuing personal relationship is guilty of a fourth degree felony.
- B. Whoever commits four or more offenses of battery against a household member as provided in Section 30-3-15 NMSA 1978 or aggravated battery against a household member as provided in Subsection B of Section 30-3-16 NMSA 1978, or any combination thereof, when the household member is a spouse, a former spouse, a co-parent of a child or a person with whom the offender has had a continuing personal relationship is guilty of a third degree felony.
- C. For the purpose of determining the number of offenses committed, each offense must have been committed after conviction for the preceding offense.

30-3-18. Criminal damage to property of household member; deprivation of property of household member.

- A. Criminal damage to the property of a household member consists of intentionally damaging real, personal, community or jointly owned property of a household member with the intent to intimidate, threaten or harass that household member.
- B. Whoever commits criminal damage to the property of a household member is guilty of a misdemeanor, except that when the damage to the household member's interest in the property amounts to more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), the offender is guilty of a fourth degree felony.
- C. Deprivation of the property of a household member consists of intentionally depriving a household member of the use of separate, community or jointly owned personal property of the household member with the intent to intimidate or threaten that household member.
- D. Whoever commits deprivation of the property of a household member is guilty of a misdemeanor.

30-3A-2. Harassment; penalties.

- A. Harassment consists of knowingly pursuing a pattern of conduct that is intended to annoy, seriously alarm or terrorize another person and that serves no lawful purpose. The conduct must be such that it would cause a reasonable person to suffer substantial emotional distress.
- B. Whoever commits harassment is guilty of a misdemeanor.

30-3A-3. Stalking; penalties.

- A. Stalking consists of knowingly pursuing a pattern of conduct, without lawful authority, directed at a specific individual when the person intends that the pattern of conduct would place the individual in reasonable apprehension of death, bodily harm, sexual assault, confinement or restraint of the individual or another individual.
- B. As used in this section:

- (1) "lawful authority" means within the scope of lawful employment or constitutionally protected activity; and
 - (2) "pattern of conduct" means two or more acts, on more than one occasion, in which the alleged stalker by any action, method, device or means, directly, indirectly or through third parties, follows, monitors, surveils, threatens or communicates to or about a person.
- C. Whoever commits stalking is guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon a second or subsequent conviction, the offender is guilty of a fourth degree felony.
- D. In addition to any punishment provided pursuant to the provisions of this section, the court shall order a person convicted of stalking to participate in and complete a program of professional counseling at the person's own expense or a domestic violence offender treatment or intervention program.

30-3A-3.1. Aggravated stalking; penalties.

- A. Aggravated stalking consists of stalking perpetrated by a person:
- (1) who knowingly violates a permanent or temporary order of protection issued by a court, except that mutual violations of such orders may constitute a defense to aggravated stalking;
 - (2) in violation of a court order setting conditions of release and bond;
 - (3) when the person is in possession of a deadly weapon; or
 - (4) when the victim is less than sixteen years of age.
- B. Whoever commits aggravated stalking is guilty of a fourth degree felony. Upon a second or subsequent conviction, the offender is guilty of a third degree felony.
- C. In addition to any punishment provided pursuant to the provisions of this section, the court shall order a person convicted of aggravated stalking to participate in and complete a program of professional counseling at his own expense.

30-3A-4. Exceptions.

The provisions of the [Harassment and] Stalking Act [30-3A-1 NMSA 1978] do not apply to:

- A. picketing or public demonstrations that are lawful or that arise out of a bona fide labor dispute; or
- B. a peace officer in the performance of his duties.

OTHER DEFINITIONS

The following are additional terms that are used in various places in this Report, and the definitions of what they mean at NMSU:

Awareness Program: An educational program delivered either in person or online that makes a person familiar with material surrounding a particular topic (in this case, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking); should be culturally relevant and inclusive of all individuals and groups.

Bystander Intervention: Measures that can be taken by someone (other than the victim) to interrupt or discourage the actions of another that might be leading toward sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking; the measures may, but do not necessarily need to, include calling 911.

Consent: Knowingly and willingly agreeing to something; affirmative consent includes when a person specifically communicates that they agree; lack of an objection by a person does not mean they are consenting, as they might not be objecting due to fear, threat, or lack of comprehension.

Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Campaign: A regular program that includes both the information provided during initial awareness training, as well as additional or expanded information to further understanding; intended to assist people in avoiding or preventing an incident from taking place.

Primary Prevention Program: One designed to keep something (e.g., injury or assault) from ever occurring in the first place; often includes education and a prohibition on undesirable conduct.

Proceeding: The NMSU administrative disciplinary process, to include hearings and appeals, unless otherwise indicated.

Result: The findings, and any resulting sanctions issued, as a result of NMSU administrative disciplinary process, to include hearings and appeals, unless otherwise indicated.

Risk Reduction: Precautionary measures that may be taken by an individual or a group in order to lessen the chance of an incident, injury, or violence.
